

Day 7

Transmission: 29:31

Music: Chris Deuel – Deep Inner Peace

This transmission focuses on the mechanisms which regulate your subconscious mind. So much of the “sabotage” we experience is the result of patterns held within the un-conscious mind. With the rewiring/reconfiguration of your axiatonal systems, synapses, Light pathways and much more, new patterns are now laid within the subconscious mind. These templates or patterns allow you to create or build new energetic sequences. Again, this takes practice and repetition to solidify this new energy. The more you focus on the emotion of joy, gratitude, love and fearlessness, the quicker these new patterns emerge in your reality.

Yes, I can already hear you grumbling, maybe rolling your eyes. You’ve heard this all before. However, now the pathways and templates to support this new energetic have been laid in your matrix. The bio-electrical, biochemical reaction can now support your focused intention in a whole new way. It is equivalent to trying to plug an appliance to an outlet without any electricity. You plug it in; it looks like it should work, but there is no energy being connected to the appliance, so the effort feels worthless. However, it is the behind the scene mechanics which are the issue, not the effort. The same is true about how the energy runs through your subconscious systems/mechanism in matrix. The mechanics to produce a different outcome are now coming “online”.

Dare to experiment with this new energy and see how quickly things shift for you. Focused energy creates. Make sure you are focused on the right things. When doubt arises, flood it with energy from your heart and remember the infinity essence that you are.
