

Day 6

Transmission: 29:26

Music: Ron Crose – Night Water

This transmission of Light continues the formation of new Light pathways from the base chakra down, anchoring into your Earth-star.

As vehicles of Light consciousness, we are conduits of Light for not only ourselves but also to be in service for all of humanity and all living things on the planet. Our ability to anchor the Light frequencies and information, and allow that to flow through us into the ley lines of the planet for further dissemination, is desired.

This is a very gentle and peaceful transmission, allowing you to connect into deeper levels of your own essence. Go deep into the knowing of your own Light and breathe that consciously into your body matrix.

Please notice the shifts and changes that may be occurring in your life. You may begin to experience a more constant feeling of center and balance during your day, an awareness of yourself from different perspectives, and more. You are multi-dimensional; your perceptions may begin to expand your understanding of that in a very literal way. Smile, breathe and know that you are Light!
