

Day 8

Transmission: 29:03

Music: Chris Deuel – Deep Inner Peace

This transmission of Light begins the process of connecting you to specific Light streams of information which are valuable and in alignment with your illumination and growth.

It is not about unlimited access, as this overwhelms your personality and shuts down your neural transmitters, producing the opposite effect desired. Working with your higher self, the appropriate streams are determined and direct links are being established which enhance your understanding.

Many of you may be surprised at the information or guidance you receive. For most, it is not about establishing a new career or changing life drastically - often considered superficial from the perspective of your higher self - although it might bring that message.

More accurately, it is a broader understanding of your multi-dimensional skills sets, the contracts or work you are destined to do for humanity, and how to have the greatest possible positive impact on your life.

The goal is to always bring you into a deeper understanding of yourself as a Multi-dimensional Being of Light. How your thoughts, actions, intentions and personal Light quotient impact your experience and the world as a whole. The by-product is more happiness, fulfillment, joy and Light in your everyday experience. Breathe in this truth.
