Patient Rights and Responsibilities (Amharic)

Swedish in the context of knowledge exchange: Swedish patient rights and responsibilities are based on Swedish law, which outlines the following:

- Patient Rights: Patients have the right to informed consent, confidentiality, and the right to access their medical records. They are also entitled to participate in decisions affecting their health care.
- Patient Responsibilities: Patients are expected to cooperate with their healthcare providers, follow treatment plans, and fulfill their financial obligations.

- Healthcare Providers: Healthcare providers have the duty to maintain confidentiality, provide appropriate care based on the patient's needs, and respect the patient's autonomy.
- Ethics Committee: The Swedish Ethics Committee (Swedish Ethics Committee (Suède Ethics Committee)) provides guidance on ethical issues, including patient autonomy and the treatment of vulnerable populations.

- Living Wills: Living Wills (Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care) are important documents that can guide healthcare decisions in case the patient is unable to express their wishes. They can be used to appoint a legal representative to make decisions on behalf of the patient.

- Durable Power of Attorney: A Durable Power of Attorney allows a patient to appoint a legal representative who can make decisions on their behalf in case of incapacity. It is important for patients to consider who would be best suited to make decisions in their best interest and to discuss this with their healthcare providers.

- Healthcare Practices: Healthcare practices in Sweden are regulated by law, which ensures the protection of patient rights and the provision of high-quality care. This includes the right to access healthcare services and the right to be informed about treatments and procedures.

- Healthcare Providers’ Responsibilities: Healthcare providers are expected to prioritize the patient’s well-being and to ensure that their care is in line with current medical standards.

- Vulnerable Populations: Vulnerable populations, such as children, elderly, and those with disabilities, are protected by law and are entitled to special consideration and care.

- Ethical Guidelines: Ethical guidelines in Sweden are designed to promote the protection of patient rights and to ensure that healthcare providers act in the best interest of their patients.
