Diving

With nearly 100 dive sites to choose from, the Bligh Waters features some of the most stunning diving in the world.

With more than 300 species of coral, Fiji has earned a reputation as the “Soft Coral Capital of the World”.

In addition to soft corals and more than 1,000 species of marine life, the region also offers dramatic views of coral pinnacles and plummeting walls.

Wall dives, sloping reefs, and wrecks are also diveable, offering a variety of options for divers of all levels.

Volivoli also offers three house reefs—shore dives where MACRO photography is king. These dives are available 24/7 free-of-charge as part of your dive package!

SMB and audible signal device are required for all divers.

Marine Life

Fiji is famous for its vibrant displays of Dendronephthya soft corals, which turn reef walls into explosions of pink, orange, and purple.

Fiji's reef system is fed by nutrients streaming up from the Tonga Trench and supports more than 1,200 fish species. Five of the seven species of turtle call the islands' waters home.

Abundant parrotfish, masked butterflyfish and more than five species of clownfish, roam the reefs.

Shore diving sites are home to a range of pipefish, sea horses, frogfish, nudibranch, octopi, crustaceans, anemone, and so much more.

Volivoli Beach Resort

Volivoli Beach Resort offers private accommodations with panoramic beach and ocean views.

There are several room styles and capacities.

Relax by the pool, indulge yourself at the spa, savor meals at the resort's two restaurants, or enjoy a cocktail at the swim-up bar. Volivoli also offers nightly music and entertainment.

Want an on-land adventure? The resort offers a variety of land-based activities including waterfall hikes, village tours, and cultural adventures!
