Why Diving in Grenada Is Special

Diving in Grenada blends historic shipwrecks with healthy coral reefs and dramatic underwater terrain. Scuba diving in Grenada features iconic wrecks, along with reefs, walls, and artificial sculptures in the water.

Divers can expect turtles, reef sharks, rays, schooling fish, and vibrant sponge life. Warm water, mild currents, and diverse dive sites make Grenada diving suitable for beginners while still exciting for advanced divers.

Grenada diving stands out for:

- The Bianca C, a 600-foot former luxury liner which some call the "Titanic of the Caribbean."

- The Underwater Sculpture Park: Grenada is home to the Molinere Underwater Sculpture Park, described as the world's first underwater sculpture park. The sculptures have become part of the marine environment as coral and other marine life grow on them.

What to Know about Grenada:

Language: English.

Currency: Eastern Caribbean dollar; credit cards widely accepted

Power: Type C: converter needed

Water Temp in March: 79 to 82°F / 26 to 28°C. A skin or 3 mm wetsuit recommended.

Viz: 30-100 feet / 10 - 30 meters.

Suitable for divers of all levels:

- A great location for your first tropical trip
- Opportunities for advanced / deeper diving
