Summary

Ann started her Girl Scout experience as a first grade brownie and continuing on to become a very active senior scout in both troop and council-wide activities. Working through the Council Leader Training Program from Specialist to Trainer Trainer becoming one of the council's youngest Leader Trainers, assisting on leader and council staff retreat weekends as well as girl and troop weekends. Her active involvement earning her a place as a delegate to the national convention when she was in high school, appointment on several Council Board Committees and then later election to Board of Directors. Ann spent nine summers working at resident camps teaching sailing, swimming, canoeing, backpacking, rock climbing, ropes courses, drama, art, and music as a leader and trainer.

Although Ann remained Girls Scout at heart, upon moving to Houston, Ann became active in starting her own business, Oceanic Ventures, Inc., and developing the foundations for OVI Technical Training, and the United States Deep Dive Team. She has continued her work with non-profit organization through donations of time and gifts in kind to the United States Deep Dive Foundation, Museum of Fine Arts Membership Drive, American Diabetes Association, Heights Exchange Club, T.W. Davis YMCA, Escape Family Resource Center, as well as other Houston Charities. Oceanic Ventures is a Corporate Sponsor of the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston. Ann and her husband Eric was Auction Chair for the American Diabetes Association Spring Gala, 1999. She continued on to form Oceanic Ventures Foundation.
