JESUS: My Everything!

By Jim Richards

There is no doubt that the longer we walk with the Lord the more we grasp what this statement really means: “Jesus is my everything!” It’s sort of like loving your spouse. When you are first married you experience love at a certain level and in a certain way. While the emotions may be incredibly strong, over time those emotions are replaced with deep feelings. Those deep feelings are more than the excitement of a new relationship. They spring out of respect, appreciation, and shared values. The more you experience the good things your mate brings to your marriage the more you appreciate him or her! I love it when I see qualities in Brenda that I had not seen or appreciated before. If you’re fortunate enough to be in a deeply loving relationship you appreciate the other person more with every passing year! Just like the value for our spouse grows as we experience more of the benefits of the relationship, likewise, our love, i.e., value for Jesus grows the longer we walk with Him and grow in the knowledge of who He really is!

This is why the tenses of words in the Greek New Testament like “renew,” “repent” and “confess” - words that have to do with our growing knowledge of the Lord Jesus - describe our journey as a constant progressive revelation. If we are in fellowship with Him, reading His Word, meditating on what we read, and listening to His voice, we will continue to discover more about what we have in Him! That leads us to change our minds (repent) and expand our concept of what we have in Him. It causes us to enlarge our confession (say the same thing) about who we are in Him. In other words, as long as we are growing in our knowledge of Him, we will continually see and grasp more of what was provided for us through His death, burial, and resurrection. This means we will be continually putting on more of what we have and who we are in Jesus while putting off anything that prohibits us from experiencing the fullness of Christ. It is the very fact that we will never reach an end to the goodness of God that keeps this relationship ever-growing and ever-fresh.

The apostle Peter tells us that we have everything that pertains to life and godliness through the knowledge of him that has called us. Although we have it all we grow in our experience of it. When the Bible talks about growing in knowledge this is far more than mere information. I love the Greek word for knowledge. This is a word that implies that we should experience something with every sensory capacity that we have as human beings. Knowing the information about the new birth doesn’t make you born again. Having the knowledge, believing, and experiencing the knowledge is what makes it vital to our life. It’s the same with healing, prosperity, peace, joy, or any truth. Until we experience it, it is only information! It is this experiential knowledge of God that causes our life to transform continuously. It is this experiential knowledge of God that brings us into the abundant life that Jesus came to give us.

The fact that we have everything that pertains to life and godliness, and the fact that we should be continually growing in our knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ is a paradox that many people fail to grasp. This means that while I have it all I may not be experiencing it all. The legalist would say that you experience it all by obeying the rules. The mystic would say you have it all and you just need to realize you have. But the apostles taught that we have it all, and through fellowship with him, i.e., personal experience, we see, grasp, and experience what we have been freely given. The apostles presented the reality that this is a relationship and, like any relationship, its depths are experienced through intimate, personal involvement.

Jesus: My Everything! (con't)

The Bible provides the perfect scenario for us to grasp, see, and fully comprehend the realities of life in Christ. When Jesus came as a man He modeled what it would look like if we were, in fact, walking with God and filled with grace. John said, And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. (John 1:14) Those of us who embrace the grace of God can look at the life of Jesus and know, if I am yielding to grace this is what my life should look like!

Acts 10:38-39 says, God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power, who went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed by the devil, for God was with Him. He modeled what it would look like if we brought miracles and healing to the world by the same Spirit that is in us. He modeled every aspect of interaction with the religious world, the lost world, and the hurting world.

He showed us how to relate to sinners. He showed us what righteousness looks like in the flesh! If the doctrine we embrace doesn't lead us to live more like Jesus either the doctrine is false or our interpretation of it is incorrect.

The Epistles give us an incredible amount of information about what we have in Jesus as a result of His death, burial, and resurrection. This is where we look to understand who we are in relationship to God. We are hidden in Christ. We are seated with Him in heavenly places. Everything about who we are is defined by who He is because we are in Him! But it is the life of Jesus that models what it should look like! It would be very easy to twist the truth about what we have in Jesus into some religious, legalistic, or mystical model if it weren't for the fact that God became man and showed us how it should look! That was one of the many problems with the application of truth until Jesus came. Prior to that man could take any truth of God and create his own delusional, self-serving way to express it! When Jesus came we finally had a Model. Now we can look at the man, Jesus, and know exactly what we should look like as a man filled with the Holy Spirit and power.

So we have the Gospels that show the model of a man walking with God. We have the Epistles that become the basis for our faith in the resurrected Lord Jesus Christ. And we have the finished work of the cross that shows us every benefit of being in Christ. We have three incredibly reliable sources whereby we can see and understand our life in Christ. And then last of all, we have the Holy Spirit who is going to lead us, guide us, and empower us to live this life. It seems it should be impossible to be confused about what our life in Christ should look like. But, it also seems that the Christian world has become religious and has looked to philosophy and tradition to understand Christianity rather than to the life of Christ.

As I have said so many times, God never called us "Christians." The world called us Christians, but God calls us "believers" and "disciples." As a believer I am immovable about the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus. As a believer I am immovable about the covenant that God made with the Lord Jesus Christ. As a believer I am immovable about the fact that because I am in Christ I share in His inheritance, I share in His calling, I share in all of His victories, and I share in His resurrection triumphing over death, Hell, sin, the grave, and the devil! As He is so am I!

In Col. 2:8-10, Paul gives this solemn warning: Beware lest anyone cheat you through philosophy and empty deceit, according to the tradition of men, according to the basic principles of the world, and not according to Christ. For in Him dwells all the fullness of the Godhead bodily; and you are complete in Him, who is the head of all principality and power. People have a tendency to start with a philosophy, a personal opinion, or a religious tradition, and then seek to prove it through the Bible. As a result they actually become idolatrous; they bow down to an image of God that only exists in their mind.

When Jesus is our Lord and we are His disciples we look to Him as the beginning and the end, the first, the last, the author, and finisher of our faith. He is our everything! When we want to know anything about our faith He should be our Source. This is what it means to be a disciple! We follow Him, His teachings, and His example. Don't allow anyone to cheat you by getting you to look to their philosophy of Christ and Christianity. Lay all things at the feet of Jesus. Study His life, His words, and His example! As we grow in Him we realize more and more of what He did to give us an incredible life, to show us how to live this life, and to show us our incredible benefits as believers.

In ancient times when a ship sailed into a harbor it was always in danger of crashing on the rocks. Even lighting a single light would not provide the clear-cut direction needed by the sailors. A single light could provide a location for the harbor but it could not provide the means of navigation. But in time they realized that if they used more than one fire they could create a means for the ship to not only locate the harbor but also provide the straight line for sailing into the harbor free from the danger of the reefs and rocks. All the captain of the vessel had to do was align the fires so they looked like one. When both fires were aligned as one there was no danger. We have the Word of God, the life of Jesus, and the finished work of the cross. When all of these align we will arrive safe in the harbor!

(This article is based on the new series by Dr. Jim Richards entitled Jesus: My Everything! In this enlightening and empowering series Dr. Richards examines the life of Jesus to understand what He modeled as a man filled with the Spirit of grace. You will discover new insights of what we have, what we can do, and what we can expect based on the life that Jesus modeled.)

...because I am in Christ
I share in His inheritance, I share in His calling, I share in all of His victories, and I share in His resurrection triumphing over death, Hell, sin, the grave, and the devil! As He is so am I!

Religion, tradition, culture, and preconceived ideas had so distorted what truth would really look like that God had to take drastic steps. When religion put truth into practice it wasn't freeing; it was controlling and brought death. Mankind needed a clear-cut model, a perfect example of what it would look like to put truth into practice.

We needed to see how to get people healed, how to overcome sin, how to work miracles. We needed to see someone we could trust put this into practice; therefore, God made the Word to become flesh by sending His Son, in the likeness of human flesh, with all the same struggles and limitations of everyday man. Man needed a model but it had to be someone just like them. So, Jesus emptied Himself and became a man. We had the opportunity to see exactly what it would look like if God were living out the very truths He gave us to live by.

In this life-changing, paradigm-shifting series you'll discover new insights and answer nagging questions, but mostly you'll see how life really can work.

- If I am under grace what should it look like?
- Why did Jesus have to become a man?
- What is the secret to the fullness of God?
- What does it really look like to die to self?
- How do I really overcome temptation?
- Why did Jesus have such a clear sense of authority?
- Can I operate in the same authority as Jesus?
- What's the difference between the authority of man and the authority of the believer?
- How do I tell people the truth in love?

By the end of this series you will see Jesus in a light as never before. He really will become your everything. He will be the first and last place you look to answer your questions about how to live this life in the promises and power of God!

August Testimonies!

Dear Dr. Jim Richards,

When I write to you I do it with joy!

I started to listen to your teaching a couple of months ago and I'm sure that God led me to your ministry. My wife and I are right now doing the Heart Physics and this part is very new for us as believers, but it's a great blessing. I'm also reading Wired for Success right now.

In my 37 years as a follower of Jesus I've never heard teaching like this. It's so powerful and life-changing. I've sent out information to many of my friends [at least 200] about your ministry. Yesterday I met with a person who is doing missions in Albania He received a letter from me about Heart Physics and he wanted to meet me yesterday. He liked it very much. As you can see and understand we are already changing the world by telling people where they can get the right kind of teaching.

More than 7 years ago I went through a very difficult divorce that almost killed me and the business that I'm doing. The church that I was a member of called me and suggested I leave the church, so right now I'm not a member of any church.

I met a woman and we married. I led her to Christ and now she is a very devoted follower of Jesus. She has helped me a lot in many difficult situations. In my previous marriage I had four children who are grown up now. One of them recently received Jesus as Lord and Savior. He is going to a Bible School soon.

When I listen to your teaching I can see how important it is to have a right picture of God as a loving Father. You really have the gift of presenting God in a right way.

My wife and I want to sow seed into this blessed ministry and we believe that when we sow here we sow into a very good soil that will produce a lot of good fruit! ~CS~

I ordered Essential Heart Physics . Before I started the program my left ankle would swell as the day went by and I had several nose bleeds during the day. Since I have completed week one my left ankle no longer swells as the day goes by and the nose bleeds have stopped. ~CS~

'Love Jim Richards! Heart Physics is rocking my and my husband's life!! ~MB~

I'm so excited now about the [FREE] Foundations of Faith class! I have such a clear understanding of why I believe the way I do, but I'm so unable to put it into words. [The free class] was so well structured and put into a format I could understand and identify with. I'm taking my daughter through it now, as well. This is absolutely the best!!! Thank you so much! ~TL~

I LOVE YOUR SIMPLICITY IN TEACHING LIFE-CHANGING MESSAGES! THANK YOU! ~TB~

WORLD CHANGERS WEEKEND 2012

Praise God for your willingness to offer a conference of this caliber and depth, and to create the safe space of grace to hold the contents. The conference was amazing! In my many years of attending marriage conferences, retreats, and seminars, never have I experienced the transparency and vulnerability that was reflected in the conference this past weekend. There was an untainted sacredness to much of the material shared, a real-life offering of seeing through God's lenses. The compassionate presence of God was overflowing. Is this what it means to love well from the heart? The speakers were excellent and to hear each one of their stories was a gift. I thought about taking off my shoes in respect, as I was on holy ground. Am I on a spiritual high? Perhaps! ~ABL~

Praying for the Lost and Getting Results

By Jim Richards

In recent months the question has come up over and over again, “How do I pray for the lost?” This is a very legitimate question for any believer who has loved ones that do not know the Lord. How we should pray can be very confusing and, the truth is, most of what we have been told about intercession has not really come from the Scriptures but out of ideals and religious interpretations of Scripture. What is most confusing is the fact that the majority of teaching about intercession has come from the Old Covenant and has totally ignored the finished work of Jesus.

I am not claiming to be an authority on interceding for the lost. All I can share is what I understand from the Scriptures and what I have experienced in my own life. I have discovered that prayer, like many things, is based on a combination of the Word of God and how I function as an individual. We can always trust that God will give us wisdom (the ability to apply truth in a practical way) for any situation. This means that while the truth remains absolutely the same, how I need to apply the truth in my setting may be somewhat different from how you would apply it in your setting.

Most of what we have been taught about praying for the lost has been about binding the devil, commanding that the unbeliever’s eyes be opened, or asking God to speak to their heart. It is my understanding of the Scriptures that God loves the lost and that His Holy Spirit is continually attempting to speak to their heart. Therefore, it doesn’t seem reasonable that I have to ask God to do what the Scriptures indicate He is already doing. God loves the lost more than I do. He has already sent Jesus to pay for their sins so I think I can trust God to do his part.

I don’t see any basis that binding the devil from the unbeliever has any real effect on their life or decisions. The world is under the influence of the prince of the power of the air simply because of what they believe or don’t believe. So it takes a change in their beliefs before their eyes can actually be open, which means someone needs to tell them the truth. So it seems the greatest thing lacking in the life of an unbeliever is the knowledge of the truth about God’s incredible love for them.

We must remember that most of what the Church has told the lost about God is not true. They have been told that God would only love them if they get saved. They have been told that God is the one doing all the horrible things in their life in an attempt to bring them to salvation. This creates a scenario where it’s pretty much impossible for them to believe in the love of God. The Bible says in Romans that it is the goodness of God that brings people to repentance. (Rom. 2:4) The apostle Paul said that faith works by love. (Gal. 5:6) Therefore, if we want them to trust God and come to the place of repentance they need to know how good God is and how much He loves them; then their eyes are open to the truth about God!

I have been fortunate in seeing very positive results in praying for the lost. Again, I am not saying that the way I do it is the only way; I am just saying that I have discovered what works for me and my situations.

My praying for the lost begins with the confidence that God loves them. I know that their sins have already been paid for; therefore, there are no difficult cases. No matter how bad or how mild someone’s sins may be, they have all been paid for by the Lord Jesus Christ. They just need to know the truth!

Therefore, I attempt to follow the model set forth in the Book of Acts, the one place that we have a model of praying for the lost. This took place after Peter and John were arrested for working the miracle on the cripple at the gate. When they were told not to preach in the name of Jesus and were threatened with punishment they reported back to the believers. The believers quoted some Scripture, but basically their prayer was: Grant to Your servants that with all boldness they may speak Your word, by stretching out Your hand to heal, and that signs and wonders may be done through the name of Your holy Servant Jesus. “And when they had prayed, the place where they were assembled together was shaken; and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they spoke the word of God with boldness. (Acts 4:29-31)

Their prayers were not for the lost as much as their prayers were for themselves. They prayed for boldness to share the name of Jesus and confidence that God would stretch forth His hands with signs and wonders. They understood that the lost needed to hear the Gospel before their eyes could be open to it.

In praying for the lost I always begin from the perspective that I want the opportunity to witness to them. I want the opportunity to share the Gospel with them; therefore, I am the one who needs boldness. If God leads me to pray differently I will!

Another thing I pray for is the confidence and capacity to hear and follow the Holy Spirit as He leads me in how to minister to the lost. For each of my family members that were saved there were completely different events that took place. In praying for my mom to be saved one of the biggest factors was I needed to get with her apart from my stepfather; so, I prayed for the right opportunities. And at a time when I felt impressed that I should visit her I found her alone out from under his control and scrutiny. Sitting there in her living room I shared the Gospel with her and she gave her life to Jesus.

When ministering to other family members there have been times I felt led to do specific things. In each of those situations God created unique opportunities for me to minister to them, but this did mean that I had to be sensitive to how the Holy Spirit was leading. For example, I was praying for my brother one night and the Holy Spirit spoke to me to leave my apartment and walk to a certain part of town. Trust me; I did not really want to go walking that night in the sprinkling rain. As I walked down the road I was impressed to turn left on particular road, then turn right on another particular road, and then go straight. I had no idea what was going to happen. As I walked down the final stretch of road my brother actually came driving down the road and stopped to pick me up.

Praying for the Lost and Getting Results (con't)

When I got in the car he asked me what I was doing walking in that part of the city in the rain. I told him I had been praying for him and that God showed me that he was with a group of people and they were considering doing some drugs. At that point in time he was attempting to stay clean, but in a "mini-vision" I saw that he was struggling with the temptation. In my heart I saw him get up and leave the room and the Holy Spirit led me to walk down this particular street. From that I was able to share with him about God's incredible love for him and how He was working in every way possible to bring him to the knowledge of salvation. My brother did not get saved at that point in time, but after years of sharing the Gospel with him he eventually came to know the Lord.

I was invited to my hometown to speak for The Full Gospel Businessmen's Association. They said it was one of the best attended Full Gospel Businessmen's meetings in that city. I assumed it was because my father was well known in that town and had a very bad reputation. My father had been a bootlegger, a bar operator, and was known for running warehouses.

Before the meeting I was in the back room praying and I began to pray for my father. I asked the Holy Spirit to touch his heart and remind him that I will be here tonight. Stir him up to come to these meetings. Although the Holy Spirit would not violate His will, I knew He would respond to my prayer. As I was praying for my dad I imagined what it would look like if he walked into the room during this meeting. I pictured him sitting in the congregation as we worshipped. I imagined what it would be like to invite him to the front and introduce him to the congregation.

In this picture I was creating in my own mind I turned to him and said, "How would you like for us to pray for you?" At this point of creating this "mini-vision," I realized that the Holy Spirit was taking over and leading me to a whole new level of experience. In my heart I saw my dad say, "Son, I want you to pray for my sins to be forgiven." As I observed this whole experience in my heart I said, "Dad, Jesus has already died for your sins to be forgiven," and I led him to Jesus.

Soon the auditorium was full and I walked up to the platform to lead worship. In a few minutes I saw my father and one of my uncles come into the room. The way they were dressed and the fact that my uncle had alcohol poisoning so badly that his head was swollen to unusual proportions was actually somewhat embarrassing, but I pushed past those negative feelings and invited my dad to the platform to be introduced to the congregation.

When he stepped onto the platform I just followed what I had already seen in my heart. I said, "I want to pray for you. What would you like for us to pray for you?" Just as I had seen in my heart he said, "Son, pray that my sins be forgiven." I simply followed what I had already seen in my heart and I led him to Jesus, standing there before those people. Even though he struggled with peace and confidence because of the life that he lived, the rest of his days he had the assurance that he actually was born again and his sins were forgiven.

My stepfather was another interesting case. He was one of the most violent men I've ever known. Growing up we all lived in fear of our lives. He was extremely violent toward my mother. He was so volatile most of his life that it was very difficult to share Jesus with him. Toward the end of his life he became addicted to amphetamines which made him that much more difficult to minister to. His paranoia from the drugs made him feel that he was always being attacked or criticized.

After my mother got saved she was fully committed to living with him until he came to know the Lord. I could not imagine her making such a sacrifice, but she did. I remember her telling me through tears and sorrow, "If I don't stay with him until he gets saved no one will ever love him enough to help him. No one would tolerate him because he is so mean."

I can't really explain this from a theological perspective, but in my heart I determined that my mother would not waste her life on this man; therefore, when I prayed for him I would declare, "You will not die without Jesus. I will not let you die." One reason I prayed this way was because his life was often in danger as a result of his violent lifestyle.

After struggling with years of prostate cancer that had metastasized and spread throughout his body, we were called to the hospital. He was in a coma and would not live much longer. I remember feeling this deep "holy" anger. In my heart I said, "You cannot die without Jesus. I will not let my mother's sacrifice be a waste."

I went to my stepdad's room alone. Although he was in a coma I began to talk to him as if he were awake. Finally, he actually came out of the coma. I prayed with him and he invited Jesus into his life and asked for forgiveness. It was an incredible moment, but I knew that no one would believe it happened if told them and I wanted my mother to have peace in her heart that would only come from knowing that he really did get saved.

As I stood over his bed I prayed, "Father, I pray that he will live for two weeks and I pray that for the next two weeks he will tell everyone about his salvation experience. I pray that my mother and his family will have the peace of knowing that he really did give his life to Jesus." For the next two weeks every time my stepfather regained consciousness he would say, "I really did it! I really did give my life to Jesus!" For two weeks my mother found comfort that this man for whom she had laid down her life really did know Jesus.

These situations came about because I prepared myself for the opportunity to minister. I prayed for boldness and I listened to the Holy Spirit. I followed His leading as much as I understood what they were.

Another thing that I think is incredibly important for reaching the lost is to treat them just like Jesus would treat them. We need to show them the love of God. We need to show them the life of God. They need to see us living a godly life - not a perfect life, but a godly life. We will be the Bible they will read to determine if they believe that Jesus really can change a life. If they do not see a change in our life they will never believe that Jesus can change their life.

Praying for the lost is one of those places where I feel that praying in other tongues is incredibly important. I don't know how to pray for these people as I should, so any time I feel a burden for the lost I pray for them as much as I know how. I pray for them as the Holy Spirit is leading me. But I also pray over them in other tongues, trusting that the Holy Spirit will lead me into perfect intercession for them.

- 1. Always pray for personal boldness.
- 2. Speak the blessings of God over them as you feel led.
- 3. Pray for them in other tongues and trust the Holy Spirit to give you perfect intercession.
- 4. Live a life before them that gives them confidence that God can change their life, too.
- 5. Pray for wisdom, and then follow the direction of the Holy Spirit.

The Ultimate Put Off-Put On Experience

The Key to Unlocking Health, Healing, Emotional Wholeness, Prosperity,

Are you tired of recycling the same old problems? Have you done everything you know to do and yet still struggle with the same negative emotions or debilitating compromises? Does victory come and go in a seemingly unpredictable manner? If you answered yes to any of these you can finally get off the merry-go-round and stop beating yourself for these struggles! You thought there was something wrong with you. You were probably told there was something wrong with you! But really all you needed was the right tools to put God's Word to work.

Your struggles are no different than anyone's. The Bible says No temptation has taken you but such is common for all men... In other words, you're not that different from anyone. In fact, the frustration of never completely overcoming certain problems may be number one among the majority of serious believers! People repent over and over only to face the same situation again or make the same mistake again. They follow every religious formula they've ever heard. In fact, that's the problem; we attempt what we've been taught instead of what the Bible prescribes for continuous, progressive, spiritual growth while leaving our problems behind!

If you really knew how you would put an end to these recurring problems. But when you fail enough times you eventually blame yourself or God and neither of these options brings relief, peace, or victory over the problem.

- Have you ever felt fear and wished you could make it go away instantly?
- Are you troubled by recurring temptations?
- Do you seem vulnerable to certain types of problems?
- Do you find yourself making the same kind of bad decisions repeatedly?
- Do you forgive someone over and over and the same bad feelings always come back?

Now you have a solution based on God's Word, your identity in Christ, and the power of the Holy Spirit. You can now put off any problem that Jesus conquered through His death, burial, and resurrection; then you can put on your new identity in Christ!

The main reason we have repetitive problems is because we seldom eliminate the root cause. At the root of every limiting belief is an offense that needs to be sent away! Until now you had no way to identify the offense and effectively send it away, but now you have the teaching and the tools!

- Find the root to any behavioral, emotional, or physical problem!
- Send away buried emotions and feelings that have subconsciously driven your behavior!
- Learn the secret to the Urim and the Thummim used by Old Testament priests and kings!
- Once you identify any root problem send it away in seconds!
- Identify and send away limiting beliefs that form the boundaries of your heart!
- Put on new beliefs based on your identity in Jesus!
- Send away sickness and pain with new confidence!
- Develop a heart tool that you will use the rest of your life!

Without knowing the root cause of a problem it is like looking in the mirror when you're sick and attempting to diagnose why you have a fever. Looking at the outside can never allow you to see what is inside! In fact, the mindset that got you into your problem does not have the ability to see the problem or the solution.

The Ultimate Put Off-Put On Experience is one of the most powerful and diverse Heart Physics tools I have ever developed!

The prerequisite for purchasing The Ultimate Put Off-Put On Experience is the completion of Essential Heart Physics and New Beginnings Heart Physics modules. This provides the foundation to give you ultimate effectiveness!

The Ultimate Put Off-Put On Experience is required as part of the Heart Physics Coaches Certification. Take this major step in transforming your life while equipping yourself to multiply your effectiveness in ministry, counseling, and personal development!
