

WOMANIFESTO

A DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS

BY MONALISA WALLACE AND VALERIE IBARRA

I AFFIRM THAT I AM A FULL HUMAN BEING born entitled to all which is morally guaranteed to all people equally:

I AM ENTITLED TO THE BASIC HUMAN NEEDS INCLUDING: wholesome shelter, access to healthy local food and water, clean air, health care, child care, elder care, education, nonviolence, security, the opportunity to work for fair compensation and community.

I AM ENTITLED TO THE POLITICAL FREEDOMS OF: speech, association, movement, democratic and representative vote in elections and governance, the press, assembly, protest, asylum, national identity, access to public education, access to public information (including, internet access and neutrality), privacy (digital and otherwise), property ownership, access to justice and full economic and political participation in society regardless of my physical attributes (skin color, body shape, sex or otherwise), marital status, parenting status, my or my intimate partner's gender identity, age, physical ability, national association, spiritual association or lack thereof.

I AM ENTITLED TO MENTAL AUTONOMY INCLUDING: freedom of thought, freedom of expression, religious freedom to practice any spiritual tradition or none at all, and to live without governmental establishment of a religion or oppression by any religion.

I AM ENTITLED TO REPRODUCTIVE FREEDOM: access to birth control, abortion, sex education, menstrual accommodation, nursing accommodation, child care, and equal treatment based on whether I do or don't have a child.

I AND FUTURE GENERATIONS ARE ENTITLED TO NATURAL RESOURCE PRESERVATION, biodiversity protection, truthful labeling, local food infrastructure and effective protection from environmental and health harms generated by the machinations of commerce and human activity including: natural resource reduction, climate change, pollution of air and water, excessive extinctions of flora and fauna, carcinogens and toxins found in consumer and food products.

I OPPOSE ALL VIOLENCE: war, mass incarceration, criminalization of poverty, wrongful arrest, torture, the death penalty, militarized policing and corporal punishment.

I DECLARE MY FREEDOM FROM BEING COMMODIFIED: enslaved, forced into military service for the benefit of war profiteers, imprisoned for the benefit of incarceration profiteers, married without free consent, sexually or medically exploited or unfairly compensated for my work. I have the right to work, to organize with a workers' union, equal pay for equal work, child care, rest periods and to advocate for favorable conditions without harassment or rebuke.

I OPPOSE CORPORATE PERSONHOOD, recognizing the moral imperative that all people are individual lives, each of which is worthy of protections by governance, not to be transgressed, purchased, unduly influenced or even balanced against any such perceived rights or privileges attributed to nonhuman entities or constructs such as corporations, governments and religions.

I AFFIRM MY MEMBERSHIP IN THE HUMAN FAMILY and the representative systems of governance to which we subscribe to serve our collective interests to protect these freedoms, rights and entitlements due to all people born unto this shared planet.
