Hineni.
I am Here.

The simple statement is more than just an acknowledgement of our presence. Hineni is the response given by both Abraham and Moses when called by G-d, signifying their absolute devotion and willingness to be of service, their readiness to be transformed.

As we look back over the accomplishments of the past year, we are reminded that the notion of Hineni today remains no less essential to the Jewish people. Our values are built upon a foundation of commitment, responsibility and active participation. When we stand with our fellow Jews in community, when we support those in need and when we give, we are declaring that we are here for each other and for our community.

Hineni is central to the mission of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Detroit. We are here to serve and support the members of our community and to build a vibrant Jewish future for all, in Detroit, in Israel and around the world. We are here to heal the world and to make a positive difference in the lives we touch.

We are Here for Good.

Build a Vibrant Jewish Future
Providing for the well-being of the most vulnerable members of our community is a core value of our Jewish heritage and one of the fundamental aspects of Federation’s mission to serve the Jewish community. The range of services offered through our family of partner agencies is extensive, and now includes JHELP, a website and phone number that make it easier for individuals to get the assistance they need and, We Need to Talk, a new program designed to address the crises of anxiety, depression and other mental health issues among young people (see page 14).

Federation also stands ready to respond to disasters and urgent needs as they emerge. We are here to ensure the security and stability of our community, and to take care of those whose lives are affected in times of crisis, whether it means securing emergency resources, coordinating services or responding directly to critical issues.
In addition to taking care of those in need, we also strive to ensure a strong and vibrant Jewish future for our entire community. This encompasses the work of strengthening Jewish identity through all ages and stages of life via Jewish camp and day schools, congregational schools, adult education courses and more. It also means building and sustaining Jewish life here in Detroit, in Israel and throughout the world. Federation remains deeply committed to Jewish engagement and, in particular, has led a revitalization of millennial and ‘Gen X’ engagement in the Detroit area. Finally, we remain focused on growing Jewish philanthropy through our Annual Campaign, Centennial Fund and a variety of other sources of support that help us secure the long-term future of our community.
Jewish education and identity are the foundation of a strong Jewish community. Our Jewish values, heritage and culture are shaped through a variety of educational and identity-building outlets that emphasize not just personal growth and learning, but also the central role of community in our religious tradition. The Jewish Federation works to strengthen Jewish identity through its support for our JCC, schools, congregations and agencies, as well as through a variety of direct service programs.

Programs and services include:
- Hebrew Day Schools and Congregational Education Programs
- Adult Jewish Education—including JLearn and Melton at the JCC
- Early Childhood Education
- Special Needs Education—including Opening the Doors at the JCC
- Hillels on Campus
- Jewish Camping Experiences—including Tamarack and JCC camps
- Professional Development for Jewish Educators
- BBYO and other Jewish Youth Group Program Support
- Israel Experiences
Partnership2Gether is a Jewish Agency for Israel (JAFI) program pairing three Michigan communities, Metro Detroit, Ann Arbor and Grand Rapids, with three municipalities in Israel’s Central Galilee region, Migdal HaEmek, Nazareth Illit and the Jezreel Valley. Now in its 25th year, the P2G relationship is intricately woven through most of Federation’s touchpoints with Israel, infusing our missions and programs with a deeply meaningful “people-to-people” experience that has enriched Jewish lives in Detroit and throughout the partnership region.

Through the years, P2G has connected hundreds of young people and their families in reciprocal visits to both Michigan and Israel. Today, we are more than partners. We are a family.
Federation's Interfaith Affinities program welcomes, embraces and educates interfaith couples and their families within the Metro Detroit area. Programs support and encourage families as they explore how to “do Jewish” in ways that are personally meaningful. Building off the success of the 2016 Nora & Guy Barron Interfaith Mission to Israel, the Interfaith group has been actively programming and developing new and creative ways to engage interfaith couples and families. Plans for this upcoming year of programs include a Havdalah program in downtown Detroit, an interactive Tu B’Shevat Seder, a family night at Jimmy John’s Field and a new mission to Israel.
In response to the growing incidence of depression, anxiety and other mental health issues among young people, the Jewish Federation launched We Need to Talk, a community-wide initiative focused on raising awareness and providing tools and resources for those in need of care. Now in its second year, the goals of the program are to:

- Reduce the stigma associated with youth mental illness.
- Make young Jewish Detroiter comfortable talking about mental illness and more likely to seek help when needed.
- Promote healthier parenting styles that increase youth mental wellness.
- Increase and promote the availability of mental health support services throughout the Jewish community.

By bringing this issue into the light – and telling our stories – we can lift the stigma associated with mental health challenges and begin to address the problems we face as a community. Learn more at wn2t.org.
Supporting and strengthening Jewish community remain at the core of Federation's work. This encompasses both our local community in Metro Detroit—now over 100 years old and still one of the most vibrant to be found anywhere—and our broader Jewish community across the nation, in Israel and throughout the world.

Federation’s Community-Building Programs Include:

- NEXTGen Detroit: Serving as the hub of a vibrant and dynamic Jewish community for young adults in Metro Detroit, NEXTGen Detroit is the connector for all things young and Jewish.
- Women’s Philanthropy: For 70 years, Women’s Philanthropy has empowered women of all ages through education, volunteerism and fundraising efforts.
- Affinities: Custom programming to engage unique demographics and groups within the Detroit Jewish community, such as physicians, ‘Gen-Xers’ and interfaith couples.
- Leadership Development: Dynamic training and educational programs to create and sustain a cadre of community leaders to meet the challenges of today and tomorrow.
As the steward of our community, the Jewish Federation remains deeply committed to the security of our Jewish individuals and families. To that end, we allocate close to two million annually to provide for the safety of our schools, agency buildings and Jewish campuses.

Central to this effort is the Federation Community-Wide Security Department, which collaborates closely with our partner agencies and with local and national law-enforcement entities—including the Secure Community Network, a national homeland security organization working on behalf the American Jewish community. A team of highly-trained and experienced officers are stationed at our Jewish Day Schools, camps and campuses. The team also assists Jewish institutions across the community by providing training, consultation, education and advocacy to instill a culture of awareness and safety.
Preserving the Voices of Our Community
As the preeminent repository of Detroit Jewish history, the Leonard N. Simons Jewish Community Archives collects, preserves and makes available the records of our community. Amongst more than two million documents and 25,000 photographs, the oral history collection stands out as a unique window into our past, told by those who lived it.

Always striving to make their collections more accessible, this year the archives launched an oral history website to share its interviews with the world. The result is a fascinating look at how Detroit’s Jewish community has grown and changed over the past generation, and illustrates why Detroit is such a vibrant Jewish community.

2018-2019 was another extraordinary year for Federation’s Centennial Fund. To date, there have been 165 commitments totaling close to $235 million dollars to support the long-term health and security of our community.

The Centennial Fund is the primary endowment fund for securing our community’s future and will provide for the welfare and continuity of Jewish life in Detroit for the next one hundred years. With a goal of $250 million dollars, this Fund will enable us to provide for our fellow Jews in Detroit, in Israel and throughout the world. It will impact the full range of Jewish needs and experiences, including social welfare, Jewish identity and education, and Jewish life around the world.

Thanks to the support of our generous donors, we have made extraordinary strides and are on track to reach and surpass this ambitious and important goal.
