The Golden Rule

We are learning about the Golden Rule: “Treat others as you would like to be treated.”

Here are things you can do at home:

- Have a family talk about the Golden Rule. What does each person think it means? What are some things each person does to make others feel happy? What else could we do to treat family members like we want to be treated?
- Make a Golden Rule poster to show how your family is following the Golden Rule. You will need:
 - a large piece of paper or the back of this page,
 - paper for circles,
 - scissors, and a
 - pencil or crayon.

Use the back of this page for your poster or make your own poster. Then cut circles out of paper. Put the poster in a place where you will all see it (refrigerator, table, wall) and keep the circles and pencil or crayon nearby.

When a family member is following the Golden Rule, write it on a circle and tape or glue it to the poster.

When the poster is full of circles, celebrate by doing something like playing a favorite game, making a special snack, or going to a park to play.
