

Suzuki Studio Policy

Dear Suzuki Parents:

Thank you for the privilege of working with you and your child. Please read through this handout and keep it as a reference. We will be reviewing this handout as well as the Dates Handout , the Parent Responsibilities Handout , and the Conduct on PUCG Campus handout at your child's first September lesson. As you know, if you have had more than a year or so of piano with me, this important conference also serves to refresh our mutual understanding of your daughter's or son's needs and aspirations at the piano.

Kate

By paying tuition you receive the following: (in addition to a lifetime of benefits !)

...And you agree to the following policies:

Conduct on the Peace UCC Campus:

-Please see separate handout

Lesson Length:

I often may teach a lesson a little longer than the time agreed to, and I occasionally teach the lesson a little shorter than time allotted. This is according to the needs of your child. You are paying for the overall positive and nurturing musical growth of your child. You are not paying by the minute. By agreeing to the studio policy you agree to allow me to end and begin the lesson as I perceive necessary, and you agree that observing a lesson ending a little late (into your lesson time) is a valuable and important part of lessons. When I accept your tuition payment, I have your understanding that I work with the best interest of your child at heart and I work in good faith with utmost respect for your sacrifice of time and financial commitment.

Communication with Teacher:

1 lesson each in September and in May is largely devoted to reviewing together the current policy, to celebrating your young musician's accomplishments, evaluating their child's needs, setting goals and fine tuning our work together.

-Email is the appropriate way to keep me in the loop about trading times with other families

-Text or Phone Call is the appropriate way to alert me about that day's unplanned absence (227-7535)

-In person at the lesson is the appropriate way to discuss any concerns or questions about your child's progress or any permanent scheduling changes . If you have had problems practicing well with your child, for example, or you want to express important information about your child's needs, please mention this to me at the beginning of the lesson and we will discuss it then or at the end. In most cases, if you feel you need privacy from your child, you can simply ask your child to wait outside.

Kate's sick leave: September-May

-Two Weeks between September and May with no makeup.

Each week includes both a private and a group lesson.

-Up to 2 more weeks' sick leave will be credited in lesson credit to the Summer.

Student or Students' family sick leave

Child's lesson is made up only in case of illness. Please do not hesitate to cancel if your child is ill. This is in everyone's best interest.

Student's absences (field trips, soccer practice, etc.)

-No make-ups or refunds

-You may trade times with any other student to make up for lost lessons.

-You may ask me if I have extra slots available (from other students who can not use their time) for make up, however, I can not keep you on the roster for lessons for more than 3 months

 Device Policy:

Please only allow siblings to play on or use a device if they are out of the room, at the picnic table.

If you are still the practice parent:

NO TEXTING.

This is a distraction to me, to your child, and, of course, to you! It undermines the Suzuki Triangle that we are striving for. If you are taking notes on your phone, I hope that, while it is usually obvious to me, that you still might mention that to me or remind me of that. Your child needs to hear you say that. It is a teaching moment for him.

IF you are sitting by arrangement at the back of the room, (Likely your child is in 6th grade or higher), then it is fine for you to be texting just as it is fine for you to be reading or working.

If, as the practice parent, taking notes, you find that you simply can not get through this precious half hour without texting, due to an emergency, please remove yourself from the room while texting.

Summer Policy:

Summer Policy is a separate Policy, available for you to review at any time. Summer policy runs from June through August and is designed to be flexible to your needs.

Kate's Continuing education : All continuing families pay an annual fee, due with Summer payment. (Reading Club families pay in September). That money and the time which it represents go directly to my continuing education.

*You agree to the Dates as posted in June for each upcoming School year

Thank you!
