DESCRIPTION

Are you “really” ready for the full implementation of the ACA? Have you planned for how to limit your liabilities associated with taxes, fees and fines if you are not in compliance? Have you assessed your administration systems to know if you will be ready to report plan participants to the IRS? Many employers have been working diligently to be in compliance with the ACA since its inception. The process has been very complex and regulations are updated constantly. This presentation will walk through the important items to be considered from now through 2018 to help you review the reporting and systems updates that may be needed in order to be in compliance.
