Ethical Issues for Attorneys in the Construction Bidding Process

Credit: Missouri – 1.0 ethics / Kansas – 1.0 ethics
Cost: KCMB A Member - $45 / Non-Member - $80

DESCRIPTION

In the bidding process for the award of new contracts, clients of construction attorneys may commit, or discuss whether to commit, fraudulent, criminal or dishonest acts. These acts may take place before the attorney is representing the client. These acts may also be proposed by the client while the attorney is representing the client. In this seminar, some of the fraudulent, criminal or dishonest acts in the bidding process will be described. We will then review how the Missouri and Kansas Rules of Professional Conduct for attorneys, and the Comments, would apply to situations in which the construction client had committed these wrongful acts, or had told their attorney that they were thinking about committing them.
