Professionals will be addressing the many ways in which these abuses occur and will focus on how we can help those affected by digital domestic abuse. Topics will include the use of technology in stalking, invasion of privacy, how to keep your personal information safe, the civil ramifications of sexting and invasion of privacy, and how to help clients move on and heal afterwards. One part of it will include how the #MeToo movement has been such a game changer in bringing to light sexual harassment and sexual assault.
