

Home > Daniel Pauly, Podcast, Season 2

Daniel Pauly on the Future of Fish and Fisheries vs. The Planet

daniel pauly, eco-ethics, environment, fisheries, oceans, Orcas, Skaana, ubc

00:00 00:00

Podcast: Play in new window | Download

Subscribe: Spotify | RSS

Global fisheries expert Daniel Pauly (@SeaAroundUs) on illegal fisheries, vanishing fish and the fight to save BC's salmon with @Skaanapod host Mark Leiren-Young (@leirenyoung).

Skaana connects you to stories about oceans, eco-ethics and the environment.

TIME JUMP

- 0:00 - Intro
- 5:38 - Defining "Shifting Baselines"
- 9:14 - "The main reason why we need to study fisheries globally is because studying them at a local level doesn't capture the dynamics...All the fish move, they don't know borders."
- 11:46 - The globalization of fisheries and outsourcing to

Daniel Pauly
Biologist/Ichthyologist
Twitter Instagram Facebook

← Michael Moore on Canada, comedy, Capitalism: A Love Story Daniel Pauly on the Future of Fish and Fisheries vs. The Planet

EPISODES SHARE

Link: <https://www.skaana.org/daniel-pauly/>

Archived audio: <https://s3-us-west-2.amazonaws.com/legacy.searoundus/TVRadio/2020/Skaana+Podcast+-+December+1%2C+2020+-+Daniel+Pauly+on+the+Future+of+Fish+and+Fisheries+vs.+The+Planet+>