Prescient Models Announces the Release of Prescient Investor™
AT LENDIT FINTECH EUROPE 2018

LONDON (November 19, 2018) - Prescient Models announced today at LendIt Fintech Europe, Europe's leading event in financial services innovation, that it has released a new software product, Prescient Investor™. Prescient Investor™ provides insights and forecasts about potential risks and profitability, in varying economic environments.

Prescient Investor™ software provides insights into loan portfolios at any variable/segment/vintage/account level and forecasts through ranges of economic and origination scenarios. It has flexible viewing of historical portfolio and economic data with all model components revealed and real-time, automatic documentation and validation.

Joseph Breeden, founder and CEO of Prescient Models said, "Early client feedback has been extremely positive. Unlike BI tools or marketplace lending tools, our adaptive, nonlinear modeling techniques provide real advanced warning of changes in future losses, yield, and IRR. Our models gave years of advanced warning to the Global Financial Crisis and are a perfect fit for analyzing new, growing portfolios."

LendIt Fintech Europe, a gathering of more than 1,200 industry professionals in London, showcases the leaders in innovation across financial services including the digital banking, fintech, blockchain and lending industries.

About Prescient Models

Prescient Models provides best-in-class modeling and software for a broad range of applications including forecasting, stress testing applications, profitability, and collections. We created leading stress testing applications before CCAR and DFAST existed. Our models were IFRS 9 and CECL compliant before IASB and FASB saw a need. Through multiple recessions and business environments, our models are battle tested and proven true.
