

Fun Fact

All of the tallest buildings at Disney World are just under 200 feet tall because anything 200 feet or taller has to have blinking lights for airplanes to see.

Do you like gum?

Gum is not sold anywhere at Disney World so bring some from home if you want it during your trip!

Look up!

Every night, a person dressed as Tinker Bell flies 750 feet from the castle to Tomorrowland when the fireworks are about to begin.

Did you know?

There are tunnels under Magic Kingdom called utilidors that allow Cast Members to take breaks, get costumes & move between parts of the park without being seen by the public.

Get a High Score

On Buzz Lightyear's Space Ranger Spin ride at Magic Kingdom, you can aim for the Z at the base of Zurg's spaceship to get 100,000 points for each hit!

Q: Which Disney World resort has a monorail going through the middle of it?

A: The Contemporary Resort

q:

How deep is the water that's in the Fantasmic show at Hollywood Studios?

a:

Just 1 foot deep!

Q: How many times can you spot Captain Jack Sparrow on the Pirates of the Caribbean ride at Magic Kingdom?

A: 3

Approval from Congress?

Congress?

Disney World had to get permission from the U.S. Congress to use the Great Seal of the United State in the Hall of Presidents

