Rayzel's Opening Words:

Thank you for downloading this FREE special list from hCGChica.com!

I have run into the most amazing people throughout my hCG Diet journey, and one of these people is Susen, a fellow hCGER who is a professional Skincare Specialist and Makeup Artist.

One question that I have received the most frequently is what makeup and skincare products can I use while on the hCG diet? Most of us would prefer not to have buy specialized products just for the diet, when many of the products we're already using may be perfectly acceptable. But how does one know what's okay to use and what's not?

In comes Susen. She has spent countless hours, researching ingredients and calling companies. She came to me and offered to let me pass on this special list she's been developing of hCG-safe, oil free cosmetics and skincare products to those who happen upon my website.

UPDATE 2015 – PLEASE READ!!

It has been a few years since this list was compiled. Sometimes, makeup products change their formulations. Recently, an hCGER came to me and was bummed out when she purchased a few Bobbi Brown products on this list, but when they arrived, the label said they contained shea butter, geranium oil, and grapefruit seed oil. I think overall this list can still be quite helpful, but moving forward, I think it best to use this as a STARTING to guide, and to follow up with researching the ingredient label of your chosen makeup product online to check the current ingredients and to be sure it's still oil free.

Lotions that are oil free for hCG:
Corn Huskers Lotion

Once again- thank you for using hCGChica.com as a resource for your journey on the hCG Diet.

From Susen:

My name is Susen and I'm a professional Makeup Artist and Skincare Specialist. I have worked freelance since 1991 and now work for Shiseido/Nars, while continuing my freelance work. In addition to my years working with cosmetics and skincare, I am a Chartered Herbalist and Certified Therapeutic Aromatherapist. My background/education in nutrition, skincare and cosmetics gives me a unique perspective into caring for those on hCG.

When I was about to embark on my hCG Journey, I decided it was best to research the best oil-free skincare and cosmetics options I could find. I also wanted to see which of my current favourites I could continue to use while on hCG. Firstly, I found that a LOT of products that I assumed wouldn't contain any oils actually did! For example, powder cosmetics. I wrongly assumed that powders didn't contain any oils, after all, they're powders, not creams. I also found that, for people such as myself, with mature and/or dry skin, it was difficult to find good, hydrating oil-free skincare products. Most oil-free skincare products are geared towards oily, acne-prone skin types. So, what started out being some quick, personal research into Phase 2-safe beauty products, quickly became an in depth research project for everyone on hCG.

I started my research with products specifically labeled "oil-free". From there, I used my background knowledge to look at other products' ingredient lists to search for "hidden" oils. Many products not specifically labeled as "oil-free" did not contain any oils in their ingredients, so they were added to my ever-expanding list. Of course, since new discoveries are made constantly, I cannot keep up with all the new ingredients companies have developed, so when in doubt, I contact companies to ask them which of their products were free of all forms of oils/fats. I must say, I have been disappointed by many companies. They simply haven't responded to my e-mails, so I can't safely add their products to my P2 Safe list. I have contacted companies like Revlon, Maybelline, Avon, etc. at least three times, but haven't received any responses. Other companies, like MAC Cosmetics and Merle Norman have been very quick to respond and I have been very impressed with the comprehensive information they have provided for me.

So, I continue my research and hopefully the list will continue to grow. My goal is to give everyone on hCG P2 a large range of skincare and cosmetics to choose from, at all price points, from inexpensive drugstore brands, to expensive luxury brands. This is already quite possible where skincare is concerned, but unfortunately, where cosmetics are concerned, the choices are mainly mid to high end brands, as the mainstream drugstore brands have not been responding to my questions.

I hope this ever-expanding list of hCG P2 beauty products is helpful for a great many people. If you have any requests of products for me to research, or would like help in choosing skincare and makeup products, I would be happy to assist. I wish you all the very greatest success on your hCG Journey!

Celazome

Celazome Clinical Skin Care, once available only through physicians, dermatologists and other medical professionals, has been revolutionizing the art of skincare for over 14 years. Celazome Clinical Skin Care products exemplify a fantastic combination of science and nature, and are solely researched and developed in laboratories without any testing on animals. Each and every item meets pharmaceutical standards and boasts a proven lifespan of 2 years after the date of manufacture.

Celazome Clinical Skincare's patented signature Lyphazome® Nanotechnology is richly included in each and every item. This technology ensures that all-natural plant based ingredients are encapsulated into tiny Nanospheres that are 1/50th the size of human skin cells and yet provide 75 times the concentration found in other encapsulated products. On average, 80% of these micro ingredients are clinically proven to penetrate deep to within the lowest sections of the epidermis. This system has produced such exceptional outcomes that Celazome Clinical Skin Care guarantees results in as little as two weeks for most individuals. All formulas are sold internationally in 20 countries and contain the highest quality vitamins A, C and E for beautiful and lasting skin.

Cellex-C

Cellex-C is the pioneer of Vitamin C Skin Care.

Vitamin C is essential for maintaining the skin's youthful smoothness and elasticity. Unfortunately, as we age, free radicals destroy the skin's supply of vitamin C causing healthy collagen production to decline significantly. The visible result of this is loose and wrinkled skin.

The great innovation of Cellex-C is the Patented Complex, presently the most effective way of replenishing your aging skin's low vitamin C levels. The Complex contains very concentrated levels of ascorbic acid (vitamin C) together with a precise formulation of other natural constituents vital to skin enhancement. It is the precise technology of the Patented Complex that make Cellex-C work differently from all other skin care products.

Dr. Hauschka

For more than 40 years Dr.Hauschka Skin Care has led the way in holistic skin care. When we talk about what makes Dr.Hauschka Skin Care unique, we talk a lot about our holistic approach. Our products, treatment methods and even our business practices are based on a "holistic" philosophy. But just what is it we're talking about when we talk about being holistic? The simple answer is that we always keep the big picture in mind. When it comes to any one action we take, any one decision we make, we take the time to look at the repercussions and ramifications on the earth, our clients and customers, our communities and our company. We carefully choose every plant and mineral ingredient based on its individual effects and the way it interacts with other ingredients, as well as whether it came from an ecologically and ethically sound source. We choose packaging that's Eco-friendly and which allows us to keep our products free of artificial preservatives.
