NWAC Seeks New Board of Directors Candidates for 2019

The Northwest Avalanche Center (NWAC) serves an important role seeking to save lives and reduce the impact of avalanches through avalanche forecasting and education in our region. The Center works as a collaboration between a professional team of forecasters, non-profit staff and a network of contributors and volunteers. We are seeking new volunteer board members with specific skill sets to continue to evolve and enhance that mission.

The demands on regional avalanche education and outreach are changing with the growing population and changing demographics of our region. NWAC serves a broad audience of recreational, and professional users, and specifically is focused on outreach and education for backcountry skiers, backcountry snowboarders, snowmobilers, alpine climbers, and snowshoers.

For more information on NWAC see: <http://www.nwac.us/about>

The NWAC Board of Directors currently has three vacancies. We are seeking to select from a pool of interested candidates based selection on advanced professional skills to provide strategic advisory support:

- Non-profit Fundraising (Development) leader with significant experience in non-profit organizations. Experience with public safety messaging also a preference.
- Chief Financial Officer (CFO) or Certified Public Accountant (CPA) skillset
- Chief Technology Officer (CTO) with ability to give future-looking strategic technology inputs across multiple discipline and advise/assist in vendor management.

Board members need to bring insights, energy and enthusiasm for the work of NWAC and represent the interests of the winter backcountry community. NWAC is committed to creating an inclusive and diverse board. All qualified applicants will receive consideration, and we welcome diversity of life experiences in support of advancing the NWAC mission. NWAC board members are volunteers who serve three-year terms and are expected to participate in regularly scheduled board and committee meetings, provide counsel to NWAC staff broadly and in their areas of expertise, participate in some events, and make NWAC a significant part of their individual philanthropy.

Candidates who are interested in exploring whether their skills and interests align with NWACs are invited to make an initial expression of interest.

If you are interested in serving on the Board or would like to suggest a possible candidate, please contact us before July 1, 2019 at info@nwac.us . Please send a cover letter outlining how you see your skills contributing to the success of NWAC. Please attach a resume or CV to understand your professional background.
