

Day 7

Transmission 33:06

Music: Daniel Schotsborg - Misty Lake & Waterfall - Holomoods

During this transmission of Light, your nervous system is upgrading to allow the information streaming from your Higher Self to come into your conscious awareness with more ease. The nervous system, lymphatic system, circulatory system, your organs and glands are all originally designed to function multi-dimensionally. The body is a magnificent bio-electrical/bio-chemical computer designed to read the software or Light information coming from your Divine Essence and source energy.

In this time and space, we are continuously and consciously evolving the body systems to their originally intended state of functionality. When speaking about Light body, I am referring to a physical body that can interpret the Light information, wisdom and knowledge being communicated from your omni-present essence and source intelligence.

The Buddha, many emanations of the Divine Feminine frequencies, as well as the Cosmic Christ Consciousness energies are all extremely present during this transmission, pulsing the refined wave oscillations of Love. Absolutely Beautiful!

Once again, let the music assist you.

Breathe and know that You Are Light!
