The Hautman Brothers are America's foremost wildlife artists - retailers ask for them by name.

The brothers have received dozens of honors and awards including an unprecedented twelve Federal Duck Stamp victories. Their work is part of the Smithsonian Institute's permanent collection and has been presented to the President in the Oval Office. This notoriety in the outdoor enthusiast channel has built their brand into one that retailers ask for by name and licensees build entire programs around. Become a licensee and watch your sales grow!
