Standards Addressed in Quick Writes

H2.3.4.g

Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences.

Standards Addressed in Guided Drafts

H2.3.4.d

Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.

Argumentative

H2.3.1.a

Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

H2.3.1.a.i Introduce precise, knowledgeable claim(s), establish the significance of the claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that logically sequences claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.

H2.3.1.a.ii Develop claim(s) and counterclaims fairly and thoroughly, supplying the most relevant evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both in a manner that anticipates the audience's knowledge level, concerns, values, and possible biases.

H2.3.1.a.iii Use words, phrases, and clauses as well as varied syntax to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships between claim(s) and reasons, between reasons and evidence, and between claim(s) and counterclaims.

H2.3.1.a.iv Establish and maintain a formal style and objective tone while attending to the norms and conventions of the discipline in which they are writing.

H2.3.1.a.v Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the argument presented.

H2.4.1.b

Gather relevant information from multiple authoritative print and digital sources, using advanced searches effectively; assess the strengths and limitations of each source in terms of the task, purpose, and audience; integrate information into the text selectively to maintain the flow of ideas, avoiding plagiarism and overreliance on any one source and following a standard format for citation.

H2.4.1.e

Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Persuasive

H2.3.1.a

Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

H2.3.1.a.i Introduce precise, knowledgeable claim(s), establish the significance of the claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that logically sequences claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.

H2.3.1.a.ii Develop claim(s) and counterclaims fairly and thoroughly, supplying the most relevant evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both in a manner that anticipates the audience's knowledge level, concerns, values, and possible biases.

H2.3.1.a.iii Use words, phrases, and clauses as well as varied syntax to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships between claim(s) and reasons, between reasons and evidence, and between claim(s) and counterclaims.

H2.3.1.a.iv Establish and maintain a formal style and objective tone while attending to the norms and conventions of the discipline in which they are writing.

H2.3.1.a.v Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the argument presented.

H2.4.1.e

Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Expository/Informational

H2.3.2.a

Write informative/explanatory texts to examine and convey complex ideas, concepts, and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.

H2.3.2.a.i Introduce a topic; organize complex ideas, concepts, and information so that each new element builds on that which precedes it to create a unified whole; include formatting (for example: headings), graphics (for example: figures, tables), and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension.

H2.3.2.a.ii Develop the topic thoroughly by selecting the most significant and relevant facts, extended definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples appropriate to the audience's knowledge of the topic.

H2.3.2.a.iii Use appropriate and varied transitions and syntax to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships among complex ideas and concepts.

H2.3.2.a.iv Establish and maintain a formal style and objective tone while attending to the norms and conventions of the discipline in which they are writing.

H2.3.2.a.v Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the information or explanation presented (e.g., articulating implications or the significance of the topic).

H2.4.1.e

Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Narrative

H2.3.3.a

Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.

H2.3.3.a.i Engage and orient the reader by setting out a problem, situation, or observation and its significance, establishing one or multiple point(s) of view, and introducing a narrator and/or characters; create a smooth progression of experiences or events.

H2.3.3.a.ii Use narrative techniques, such as dialogue, pacing, description, reflection, and multiple plot lines, to develop experiences, events, and/or characters.

H2.3.3.a.iii Use a variety of techniques to sequence events so that they build on one another to create a coherent whole and build toward a particular tone and outcome (e.g., a sense of mystery, suspense, growth, or resolution).

H2.3.3.a.iv Use precise words and phrases, telling details, and sensory language to convey a vivid picture of the experiences, events, setting, and/or characters.

H2.3.3.a.v Provide a conclusion that follows from and reflects on what is experienced, observed, or resolved over the course of the narrative.

Literary Analysis

H2.2.1.a.i

Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

H2.4.1.e

Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Poetry Analysis

H2.2.1.a.i

Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

H2.4.1.e

Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Rhetorical Analysis

H2.2.2.a.i

Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

H2.2.2.b.iii

Determine an author's point of view or purpose in a text in which the rhetoric is particularly effective, analyzing how style and content contribute to the power, persuasiveness or beauty of the text.

H2.4.1.e

Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Compare and Contrast (Text Analysis)

H2.2.1–2.a.i

Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

H2.2.1.c.ii

Demonstrate knowledge of eighteenth-, nineteenth- and early-twentieth-century foundational works of American literature, including how two or more texts from the same period treat similar themes or topics.

H2.4.1.e

Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Standards Addressed in Peer Reviews

H2.3.4.e

Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach, focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience.

Thesis Statement

H2.3.1.a.i

Introduce precise, knowledgeable claim(s), establish the significance of the claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that logically sequences claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.

Introductory Paragraph

H2.3.1.a.i

Introduce precise, knowledgeable claim(s), establish the significance of the claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that logically sequences claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.

Topic Sentences

H2.3.1.a.i

Introduce precise, knowledgeable claim(s), establish the significance of the claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that logically sequences claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.

Body Paragraph: Claim, Evidence, and Reasoning

H2.3.1.a.ii

Develop claim(s) and counterclaims fairly and thoroughly, supplying the most relevant evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both in a manner that anticipates the audience's knowledge level, concerns, values, and possible biases.

Body Paragraph: Embedding Evidence

H2.4.1.b

Gather relevant information from multiple authoritative print and digital sources, using advanced searches effectively; assess the strengths and limitations of each source in terms of the task, purpose, and audience; integrate information into the text selectively to maintain the flow of ideas, avoiding plagiarism and overreliance on any one source and following a standard format for citation.
