"STARTING THE DAY OFF WITH A BANG!"

First of a Series of New Comic Strips by Paul Berlin

Avoid Accidents . . . Observe Traffic Rules

Traffic accidents remain as one of the chief problems confronting the Safety and Patrol Departments. To date accidents involving pedestrians and automobiles on the plant have caused not only serious injuries but in several cases, death.

In order to combat the evil of increasing traffic hazards, help and cooperation is needed of all drivers on the project, whether of government owned vehicles or private cars.

The most flagrant violation by drivers at present is the failure to stop at railroad crossings where stops are required. Day after day such violations are observed, and repeated warnings have seemingly had little effect. There is considerable movement of railroad freight, and a grade crossing accident may soon occur unless this ruling is more carefully observed.

Speeding on the open roads continues, but is especially noticeable and more dangerous in congested areas such as Hanford. It must be remembered by all drivers that Hanford is a small city as well as a construction project, and that the same driving rules apply here as in any community.

At the present time, a drive on traffic violations is under way and unless all plant traffic rules are observed, many drivers will find themselves in possession of a traffic ticket. O.P.A. regulations require that speed limits be observed, and the violation of them will mean revocation of gas coupons.

Here's a new cartoon series you'll like!

Watch for it weekly. "Life in Hanford" as lived by the Hero. . . a young fellow who is all thumbs and feet.

The originator of these clever comics is Paul Berlin of the Material Control Office. Before coming to Hanford, he worked for several years as a commercial artist and an illustrator in Denver and Salt Lake City.

In 1941, while in Denver, he designed the International Rotary Convention poster.

For the present, we're leaving the hero of this new comic strip without a name. But after you've become acquainted with him, "put on your thinking cap" and see if you can suggest a good one.

We'll hold a contest soon, to give everyone a chance to submit a name for our "Hanford Hero."

FOR PARALYSIS FUND $1767.00 RAISED HERE

A total of $1767.15 will be sent to the national foundation for infantile paralysis as a contribution from Hanford Engineer Works Employees.

The PRESIDENT'S BALL held January 29 accounted for $917.50 of this amount. Expenses were paid by the Employees Association.

Four collections at the Theatre brought in $829.65.

Employees attending the safety meeting of the Layout Division on Monday morning contributed $20.00 additional.

"Rumormongers" Are Enemies

Nothing grows so fast as a rumor!

That one about the Project closing down on February 1, for instance. It would be interesting to know how it really started.

Perhaps some employee told a friend he was quitting then. Perhaps two men talked to each other about terminating at that time; and from that discussion, someone who overheard started the vicious rumor that a great number of people were leaving then.

Step by step the story grew, until the final version was that the entire Project would close.

Something like that must delight the enemy.

It's another form of sabotage, for it slows up the wheels of the Project. The enemy purposely tries to create suspicion, dissension, fear and dissatisfaction.

It is even worse when employees themselves concoct and repeat false reports like this one, no matter how innocently it may be done.

Let's not let it happen again. It is the patriotic duty of every employee to report such rumors to superiors, to the security Agent, or to the Military Intelligence Office at once, without repeating them to others.

NEW STATION TO OPEN IN THE TRAILER CAMP

The new filling station located east of the Hanford Trailer Camp Office is nearing completion, and will open soon. It is located on the corner of Guadalcanal and Doolittle, and will be operated by the Richfield Oil company.

Paper Salvage Drive is for An Urgent Need

The paper salvage campaign is off to a good start, but there are many who have not yet made their contributions.

The need is urgent. Many paper factories have had to close temporarily because of a shortage of the waste paper which they must have. The War Production Board has organized this nationwide drive which will be continuous until the crisis has been passed.

The Hanford retail merchants are cooperating, as are the Mess Halls. Barracks residents are asked to give their waste paper to the janitor or maid, who will in turn see that it reaches the proper places.

Residents of the Hanford Trailer Camp should leave their contribution at any of the five bins there. Two are located across from the camp office, two at the schoolhouse and one at the Grange Hall.

Collectors will pick up the waste paper in Richland each Tuesday; residents are asked to place the bundles on their front porches. There will be collections in the commercial section on Mondays and Fridays.

Type of paper wanted includes newspapers, magazines, paper cartons and wrapping paper. They should be bundled together before being turned in.

Second Grocery Store To Be Constructed

Construction will begin soon on the new grocery store at the north end of the trailer camp, between Morocco and Java streets. It will be operated by the 5th Avenue Market of Yakima.

This is YOUR Paper

Let's have some contributions from you!

Send us your "news tips" on interesting people in Hanford. This is a regular community, just like the one you left, "back home" . . . and there are people here we'd all like to hear about.

For instance . . . which family has the most members working on the Project, or in the Armed Services? There are all kinds of potential stories . . . unusual war experiences, amusing happenings, weddings, etc.

Let's hear from you!

OUR SLOGAN

"Let's All HEW to the Line!"

(Published Weekly by and for the Employees of the Hanford Engineer Works)

Vol. 1, No. 5

Friday, February 4, 1944

Editorial suggestions and contributions should be sent to the Editor, Hanford Housing Building, handed to your foreman, supervisor, or placed in suggestion boxes. Deadline for all copy is one week previous to publication. Phone Extension 8376.

Entire contents Copyrighted. The information contained in this publication shall not be communicated to the public or press. Requests for permission to reprint any or all of the contents must be made in writing to the Management, Hanford Engineer Works, P.O. Box 429, Pasco, Wash.

The following poem, sent to us by Francis E. Hill, of the time and payroll department, was recently published by the Chestnut Street Association in Philadelphia. The author is unknown, but he is one of the boys now overseas. He writes:

SO YOU'RE SICK OF IT!

So you're sick of the way the country is run
And you're sick of the way rationing is done,
And you're sick of standing around in line.
You're sick, you say—well, that's just fine.
Yes, I'm sick of the sun and the heat
And I'm sick of the feel of my aching feet;
And I'm sick of the mud and the jungle flies
And I'm sick of the stench when the night mists rise;
And I'm sick of the siren's wailing shriek,
And I'm sick of the groans of the wounded and weak
And I'm sick of the sound of the bomber's dive.
And I'm sick of seeing the dead alive;
And I'm sick of the roar and noise and din,
And I'm sick of the taste of food from a tin,
And I'm sick of slaughter—I'm sick to my soul.
I'm sick of playing a killer's role,
And I'm sick of blood and death and smell
And I'm even sick of myself as well.
But I'm sicker still of a tyrant's rule
And conquered lands where the wild beasts drool.
And I'm cured damn quick, when I think of the day,
When all this hell will be out of the way,
When none of this mess will have been in vain
And the lights of the world will blaze again;
And things will be as they were before,
And kids will laugh in the streets once more,
And the Axis flag will be dipped and furled
And God looks down on a peaceful world.

"THEY'LL NEVER MISS IT"

That may be what you've heard someone say, as he or she tucked away some sugar to take from the Mess Hall.

It probably hasn't occurred to those who are doing it that they are actually stealing . . . that that sugar belongs to someone else.

Sugar and other scarce foods are strictly rationed here by the Office of Price Administration in much the same way that they are to individual users. To help win the war, everyone must get along with less. Whenever anyone takes more than his share, someone else has to go without.

The American way is to "share fair." We are all in this war together; it is everyone's duty to abide by the wartime regulations that are necessary.

The next time your fellow-worker begins to pour himself some sugar to take out, remind him that he is taking something that is scarce, precious, rationed . . . that that sugar belongs to his neighbor.

DON'T LET IT HAPPEN HERE *

Every now and then, there is news of a tragic barracks fire some place in the United States.

"It could happen here" . . . but it won't, if all Hanford employees who live in the barracks obey the fire-prevention rules suggested by Chief Ray Hare of the Fire Department.

Smoking in bed is the worst hazard of all, he says, and warns that the consequences can be serious and endanger many lives and much property.

Electric appliances should not be used in the barracks rooms, as the currents are not set up to carry heavy loads.

Don't place cigarettes on the edge of dressers or desks. . . use ash trays instead, but be careful in using them and emptying them.

Inflammable cleaning fluids should never be used or stored in the barracks. Electric irons must be set on asbestos or metal while cooling.

It's all just a matter of common sense. Follow these simple rules, and do your part in keeping our barracks safe from fires. Be a good citizen in Hanford, and a patriotic one!

LETTERS TO EDITOR

C. W. Powell of Patrol Headquarters sent us a fine letter this week . . . sorry we haven't room to print it all.

Among other things, he suggests that a truly American family is one that, even though widely separated now, is doing its best to help our nation in its critical hour of need.

"If each family will participate in the war effort in its own way, victory day will be expedited greatly."

Thanks, Mr. Powell.

Alleen G. Ward is the author of the following poem. She is a member of the Miscellaneous Clerical Office, which has the splendid record of investing 30.7 per cent of their gross salaries in war bonds.

This is her poem. We think you'll like it as much as we do, and will take it to heart:

Precaution

Invest your pay in war bonds
One hears on every side;
I think that in our country,
We all should take some pride.
For just remember this, my friend,
When all our boys come home
From all the distant countries
That they have had to roam;
Suppose they should walk up to you
And ask what you have done
To help our gallant Country
That they fought for and won.
What can you say to them, my friend,
Who gladly gave their life
To keep this happy land of ours
Free from the traitor's knife!
Will you, my friends, be able,
To look at them and say,
"I did my part by buying bonds,
I helped in some small way."
Do you think that's too much to ask?
A dollar now and then
Will save our future happiness
And help this war to end.

"WHICH INCOME TAX FORM SHALL I USE?"

(By Walter J. Aries)

Two types of forms are in use for the 1943 Income Tax returns, and a comparison of the two may result in a considerable saving in the amount of your tax.

Form 1040A has certain advantages for many people whose income is not over $3,000, and consists only of salary, wages, dividends, interest, or annuities. On this form the single man pays no tax on his first $525 of income, and a married man whose wife does not file a separate return has an exemption of $1275. Perhaps the greatest advantage to the average taxpayer is that he is not required to keep receipts or records on his expenses, contributions, taxes paid, etc., but receives a deduction of approximately 6 per cent of his gross income to cover these items. This deduction is taken care of in the table on the back of the form. An allowance of $385 for each dependent is made on this form, as compared with $350 on the long form.

In some cases, it is possible for a married man whose income is over $3,000 to divide the total amount and file part of it on a separate return in his wife's name. In this way he may make a considerable saving over a joint return on the long form. This division of income is possible only if the wife has separate earnings, or if at least a part of the husband's wages are earned in a state where the community property law is in effect.

In general it is advisable to use the Form 1040A if possible when the total deductions amount to less than 6% of gross income.

For the person whose income is derived from sources other than those mentioned above, Form 1040 is required in all cases, regardless of the total amount of deductions, and in the case of husband and wife filing separate returns, both must use the same form.

Form 1040 permits the deduction of various expenses, contributions, interest paid, losses by fire, theft, or other casualty, union dues and initiation fees, medical expenses over 5 per cent of net income, taxes of many kinds, alimony and separate maintenance, and various other items too numerous to be listed in detail. A carefully study of your check stubs and receipts will usually help you to add considerably to the amount of your deductions, or if you have kept a record of expenses during the year, you will have all this information at hand.

The most important point in preparing your tax return is to start early in getting your information together, and be sure you have not overlooked some essential detail.

Our Information Office in the Hanford Housing Building will be glad to help you with your Tax Problems, as will the other information offices in the area.

Here is one request we would like to make. If you plan to bring your return in to have us help you, please add up your check stubs to find the total amount earned and the tax withheld before you come in. This takes considerable time in our office, and we can take care of more people if we are not asked to do this part of the work.

HANFORD SPORTS PARADE

New Sports Program Started In the School Gymnasium

The sports program recently announced by the Recreation Department has now been started.

The Hanford School gymnasium will be used four nights a week for this schedule, which is the first of its kind to be planned on such a large scale. It offers sports opportunities to every man employed on the project.

Among the events now being scheduled are boxing, wrestling, basketball, and volleyball. Others will be added, if there is a popular demand for them. This program is intended to further the interdepartmental activities that were started during the Hanford Yuletide Carnival.

The schedule at the present time includes Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, from 8 to 10 p.m. Boxing, wrestling and individual activities will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays; basketball on Wednesdays and Fridays.

During the first week of operation a great many men turned out for boxing and wrestling work-outs which were under the direction of Guy Parke, Millwright Dept.; Syl Conry and Fred Santra, of the Transportation Dept.; and Jim Scully of the Material Engineering Dept.

A basketball league is also in the process of being formed, and all teams that are interested in entering are asked to notify the Recreation Department, phone 8442.

All persons interested in helping develop this program are asked to attend the GENERAL LEAGUE MEETING which will be held at the school gymnasium on Wednesday, February 9, at 8 p.m.

Eighth Grade "Junior Fire Patrol" Organized

A Junior Fire Patrol has been organized among boys of the 8th grade, and they will be issued special badges soon.

Earned merits will be rewarded with promotions to the rank of Lieutenant and Captain. The meeting dates and places will be decided later. Boys who have not yet joined are asked to contact O. E. Claughton at the fire prevention headquarters.

The following is the pledge for the new Junior Fire Patrol:

1. To obey all the rules.
2. To learn what constitutes a fire hazard, and see that none exists in my home.
3. To carry home and give to my parents bulletins giving information in preserving lives and property.
4. To assist in distributing them.
5. To prevent, if possible, damage or destruction to any property vital to the protection of lives and the successful completion of this project; and to report such damage when already committed.

Surgical Dressings

Beginning next week, there will be Red Cross surgical dressings groups meeting each night at the Hut, next to the entrance to the women's barracks.

The work will begin at 7:30 each evening and last until 9:30. For additional information, stop in at the Hut or phone Mrs. Buena Maris, 8493.

New Programs Started

A new series of programs of music and news has been inaugurated for shift workers who eat in Mess Hall No. 4 between 2:30 and 4:30 p.m.

Send your requests! Just write them down on Suggestion Slips addressed to the Broadcasting Studio, Care of Training and Relations Division.

on the emergency shelf... ideal for snacks, too. A 2 lb. box of graham or soda crackers is just 37c.

And by the way... there's a special "no point" checking line, to speed things up for those whose purchases do not require points.

YOU'LL BE RECEIVING COMPLIMENTS right and left after having had one of the Beauty Shop's special oil shampoos. Your hair will be so soft and glossy that you'll want an oil treatment each time you have your hair done!

Their price of $1.75 includes both the oil shampoo and finger wave (evening prices slightly higher) and you have your choice of several different preparations: Fitch's, Admiration, Breck and Rapidol.

Hair-cutting is another specialty of this shop... including scissor or razor cuts, and "featherbobs." They'll style your hair to suit your own individuality... their operators are especially trained for this work. Make your appointment today!

IF YOU HAVE A YEN to fix up your barracks room or trailer, girls, just stop in at the Drug Store... where there are new articles arriving daily for just that purpose!

Mirrors, for instance... priced from 25c to $2.95. Colorful pictures for the walls, from 25c to $2.00... ash trays in various styles, 10c to 49c.

The Drug Store has lots of other useful "sundries," too... such as wash cloths, 2 for 25c... and ironing cords, 98c. And for your "light-housekeeping" needs—cups, saucers and tumblers, and glass coffee-makers, too. (The latter are just $2.95).

Drop in at the Drug Store often... the assortments there are increasing all the time.

WAIT TILL YOU SEE the new spring dresses at Sears! They're so gay and colorful... and so attractively styled that they're bound to be becoming!

There are flowered prints in rayon crepe or jersey... navy blues with lingerie trims... two-piece "print and plain" combinations... dots checks. $4.98 to $7.75.

AND FOR YOU MEN... Sears are featuring, among other things, a complete line of gloves. An exceptionally good work glove is the one of horsehide, for $2.49. Gray goatskin gloves, 79c. And for dress wear—black or brown leather, interlined with wool... $1.98 and $2.98.

WOMEN'S RECREATION HALL IS POPULAR

Just about the busiest "social calendar" on the Project belongs to the Women's Recreation Hall, where there are activities every evening of the week.

All women who live in the barracks are cordially invited to come over to "11-A" and bring their friends. A typical weekly schedule includes Open House each evening and the following special events:

Monday, Feb. 7—7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Gym Class in 11-B. Wear slacks or shorts.

Tuesday, Feb. 8—8:00 p.m., Pinchle Club; Crafts projects.

Wednesday, Feb. 9—7:30 to 8:30 p.m., Gym Class.

Thursday, Feb. 10—8:00 p.m., Bridge Club.

Rationing Problems

All applicants are again requested to contact their craft superintendents for their rationing needs, rather than coming to the rationing office or Kennewick Ration Board.

CASUAL COMMENT

By Proxy

SPORTS RAMBLINGS—Our early spring weather is enough to cause some of the boys to emerge from their stove leagues and begin to think seriously about baseball... In declaring that the major baseball leagues should get their houses in order or football may emerge as the nation's No. 1 sport in the post-war world, Branch Rickey seems to have given the pro grid moguls an idea; Elmer Layden quickly predicted that such will be the case... Pfof Allen, Kansas' stormy basketball mentor, stirred up his usual tempest when he proclaimed that the hardwood sport is a western game, and challenged any of "those tudy eastern outfits" to invade the middle west and learn how the game should be played; we have enough eastern and western Hanfordites to keep the argument rolling out here... Feb. 9th at 8 p.m. is a red letter appointment for you team managers who want to get the lowdown on Jim Carter's sports plans; see the story elsewhere on this page... Good news for bowling fans is that the new Hanford alleys are nearing completion; Richland will have alleys too... The plucky Richland high school basketball team that is representing both Hanford and Richland in the current scholastic hardwood campaign is winning a big following... Eddi. Powell, that neat boxer who appeared on the Christmas program, had a brush with the law in Seattle and a probation was revoked; he's a beautiful ring artist and should tread the straight and narrow when he gets the chance again... Its high school basketball tourney time in lots of sections, and the post office reports a boom on newspapers from home.

SAVE MANPOWER FOR WARPOWER

The Sage Sentinel
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1944

"Information, Please!"

The new "Information Officers" have to know all the answers!

Most of the questions that have been asked there have been in regard to income tax, selective service, and employee-relation plans such as accident and health insurance benefits, vacation eligibility, etc.

But there have been others, too . . . such as the man who wanted the Information employees to help him translate a letter he had received written in Spanish. They weren't prepared for that—but they found someone who could do it for him.

Another wanted advice on the mortgage laws in Pennsylvania. A third wanted an opinion on his status in regard to a pension for wounds received in the war.

If the Information Offices can't answer a question like that accurately, they suggest someone who can.

At present, two of these new offices are in operation. The main one is in the front part of the Hanford Housing Building and is open until 9 each evening.

The other is in the Supervisor's Office Building in Area 200 West and is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. Other field offices for general information will be set up as soon as facilities are available.

CINEMA THEATRE PROGRAM

Fri., Feb. 4—EDGE OF DARKNESS with Errol Flynn and Ann Sheridan

Sat., Feb. 5—SHADOWS OF THE SAGE

Sun., Mon., Feb. 6, 7—PRINCESS O'ROURKE, starring Olivia de Havilland.

Tues., Wed., Thurs., Feb. 8, 9, and 10—CONEY ISLAND, in technicolor; Betty Grable and an all-star cast. Also short subjects.

MISS CROWLEY, SGT. KELLEHER WED

A Hanford romance is that of Sgt. and Mrs. P. W. Kelleher, who were married in Kennewick on Saturday, January 29th and are now living in Richland.

Mrs. Kelleher was Miss Peggy Crowley of the Accounting Department, and Sgt. Kelleher is in the legal office of the area engineers.

Sgt. Kelleher, who went to Africa some time after Pearl Harbor as a legal adviser to a military mission, had an eventful trip back to the United States in 1942.

He was the only passenger aboard an unarmed, unescorted merchant ship sailing from Suez. His first misfortune was in seriously injuring his foot in a fall from one deck to another during an air raid there, before the ship had left the harbor. No doctor was available, so he decided to continue his journey.

Two Jap planes attacked and sank two ships nearby, while the ship Sgt. Kelleher was on was sailing up the Hooglie River. In port

Safety Home On Display

A model "safety home" has been opened to the public in Richland, so that visitors may see how to overcome the various hazards.

It is completely furnished, and thus gives future residents of the Village an opportunity to study the interior decoration of a typical house there. An illustrated calendar will be presented to each visitor.

The house will be open Sundays and week days from noon until 6 p.m., and from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. It is hoped that a similar exhibit of a trailer can be scheduled.

at Calcutta, he learned that another group of ships had been sunk in the Bay of Bengal on the same route his ship would have to travel on the way to the United States.

He was advised to leave the ship and go to Bombay, but again decided to stay because his leg was in a cast and traveling across India would have been difficult.

Leaving Calcutta, the ship got about half way down the east coast of India when part of the Japanese fleet came out, so it fled into a small Indian port . . . which, it developed, had been bombed only the night before.

Finally reaching Capetown, it sailed on to Brazil and then to Trinidad . . . but upon leaving there, again ran into trouble. A submarine surfaced at night and made two direct torpedo hits.

Sgt. Kelleher was uninjured. After a day in a lifeboat with 35 others, help came when a U.S. navy plane sighted the survivors and brought a ship to rescue them. After two weeks back in Trinidad, he succeeded in getting plane reservations back to the United States—after four months of travel for a trip that had taken just five weeks originally!

"Thumbnail" Interviews

THE QUESTION THIS WEEK . . .

"What kind of recreation do you like best?"

GARRETT ROOS

... carpenter

"I'm a movie fan, and like sea-action pictures and westerns best. I like to play pool, too, and I'm anxious for the bowling alleys to be built."

His home town is San Antonio, and he's a Texas booster "from way back." Mr. and Mrs. Roos have two boys—Roman, 5 years old, and Garrett, Jr., three. They live in the trailer camp.

VIRGINIA CARNEY

... sign-up checker

"I'm hoping there will be a library started at Hanford sometime. I enjoy reading, and it's quite a problem to get the new books."

Miss Carney also likes the dances in Richland, where she makes her home with her parents, Dr. M. S. Carney and Dr. J. G. Carney, both of whom are doctors with the project. They are from Pierre, South Dakota.

LESTER WILDER

... rigger

"The dances are fine and so are the shows. But how about some more gangster movies? They're my favorites."

Mr. Wilder, who is from Tulsa, Okla., lives in Yakima with Mrs. Wilder and their two-and-a-half year old daughter, Deanna Faye. He's been at Hanford since about the middle of May, so he's quite a "veteran" here.

HAROLD HASELHUHN

... first cook

"I go to all the dances—they're swell. What I really like best, though, is ice-skating and roller-skating."

And no wonder—for Mr. Haselhuhn used to be the manager of a roller-skating rink. "Home" is Des Moines, Iowa for him. He is single, and lives in the barracks here. He's been at Hanford for about two months.
