

Contention is average and Speed Rating is high suggesting off-pace runners and early pace types who can handle pace pressure with finish ability.

Early Speed/Pressers

3 - ships in from New York where he was WIDE, with NO COVER versus better, switches from Amussen to Amoss barn and picks up Bravo who is riding well since moving tact to FG, PLOTs nice square in Q1, does best work on the front end but has proven ability to rate.

8 - slight drop, just really needs to run back to last race OptixFIGs-wise to be competitive.

9 - no OptixFIGs are in today's range, big circle in Quadrant 1 on both standard and surface filters, passing.

10 - hard to gauge off 395d layoff, EX (excuse) last time and lightly raced colt has improving numbers, however overall OptixFIGs below today's range so he will need improvement, PLOTs better on surface filter, might need one.

Off Pace Runners

1 - gets class drop, but would need to improve OptixFIG dramatically, but lightly raced, should get more race flow today v. first two races, deep Q4 squares win only 8.9% on this track/surface/distance so more underneath if anything.

4 - fast enough on OptixFIGs, slightly against pace flow last versus better, should get more pace flow today and he PLOTs well.

5 - 3rd race in his recent form cycle, should get race flow, PLOTs as square right in the middle of the PLOT to right of speeds, switches to higher percentage rider.

6 - PLOTs well, OptixFIGs improving, has he peaked? or does he have another move forward? don't know if rider had choice to stay with #5 MIRACLE MOUNTAIN or this one.
