

G2 TAMPA BAY DERBY

#1 ARAZI LIKE MOVE (50/1 - TOSS) came up empty in the Pasco with no excuse C effort. He now tries two turns and graded stakes company, plots as Q4 circle - win% only 4.2%. Pass.

#2 TIZ MISCHIEF (8/1 - VALUE CONTENDER) has improving OptixFIG pattern. He encountered TRAFFIC in HolyBull which came back very strong race on OptixFIGs. He is a closer so he will need some pace help up front. He PLOTS as Q2 Square on Surface/Distance and on Q2/Q4 border so he might be able to lay a little closer to the pace today.

#3 VINO RUSSO (4/1 - KEY) ran in spots during Sam Davis. The track was speed favoring and this guy was running on well late and GALLOP out strong. He gets blinkers and lasix for first time today so he maybe more focused. Johnny V retains mount so if he could continue to build on that Sam Davis effort, he will be hard to handle.

#4 GRANDPA KNOWS BEST (30/1 - BELOW) comes off 120d layoff and his OptixFIG of 91 in September of 2-year old season suggests he is fast enough. He might need today's race. Tampa Bay deep dirt track should get some fitness into him, and, if all goes well, maybe he uses this as a prep for Keeneland's Bluegrass.

#5 FLAMEAWAY (3/1 - SOFT) showed usual GRIT to hang on and win Sam Davis, but benefited from speed BIAS track and a very soft early race shape (VS). His OptixFIG of (101) was flagged, so it could be inflated. He needs to settle behind #8 WORLD OF TROUBLE. If he tries to press that one, he most likely will regress. He is not impossible, but his price will be most likely be shorter than in Sam F. Davis where things fell right.

#6 ENTICED (6/1 - VALUE CONTENDER) is cross entered in Aqueduct's Gotham Stakes. He has nice small incremental OptixFIG progression and no red NOTES on his form. He might have needed his last race the Holy Bull. His KyJC-G2 two back was strong B+. He PLOTS well enough up on Y-axis so he should be just off first flight.

#7 FREE DROP BILLY (7/2 - NO_VALUE) passed Fountain of Youth for today's race. He is cross entered in Aqueduct's Gotham Stakes. Maybe the connections wanted to give him more time off the big Holy Bull OptixFIG (102) off 91d layoff. The last time he ran a big OptixFIG (96) in the G1-Hopeful his OptixFIGs regressed for two consecutive races. He will be bet off that last race/figure so he might lack value.

#8 WORLD OF TROUBLE (5/1 - NO_VALUE) tries route for the first time. He is very talented , but looks more like a ONE_TURN horse to us. Sometimes these types can bottom out a field going 1 1/16m. He has definite ability and PLOTs as the speed of speed. Longer term, I'd rather see him at shorter distances versus classic Triple Crown distances.

#9 UNTAMED DOMAIN (6/1 BOARD) - tries the dirt for the first time. Capable trainer has shown ability in the past to get a developing 3 year old to transition from grass to dirt. No red marks on form, and according to NOTES. He was slightly against the track profile in his return race last time. It's real encouraging to see Eclipse jockey make the trip with him to Tampa. The biggest concern is his tardy starts (SLOG, GATE in more than half his starts) might put him too far back early and compromise him on the win-end, but viable in all other slots.

#10 QUIP (20/1 - EX) has room to improve, OptixFIG-wise, with maturity. He encountered uncomfortable trip in strong KyJC race at CD. He could fall into decent stalking trip. He is not impossible, but just thinking he might need today's race.
