UNIT I (15 Hours)

The multidisciplinary nature of environmental studies: Definition, scope and importance, Need for public awareness.

Natural Resources: Renewable and non-renewable resources: Natural resources and associated problems.

- Forest resources: Use and over-exploitation, deforestation, case studies. Timber extraction, mining, dams and their effects on forests and tribal people.
- Water resources: Use and over-utilization of surface and ground water, floods, drought, on conflicts over water, dams-benefits and problems.
- Mineral resources: Use and exploitation, environmental effects of extracting and using mineral resources, case studies.
- Food resources: World food problems, changes caused by agriculture and overgrazing, Effects of modern agriculture, fertilizer-pesticide problems, water logging, salinity, case studies.
- Energy resources: Growing energy needs, renewable and non-renewable energy sources, Use of alternate energy sources, case studies.
- Land resources: Land as a resource, land degradation, man induced landslides, soil Erosion and desertification. Role of an individual in conservation of natural resources. Equitable use of resources for sustainable lifestyle.

UNIT II (15 Hours)

Ecosystems: Concept of an ecosystem, Structure and function of an ecosystem, Producers, consumers and decomposers, Energy flow in the ecosystem, Ecological succession, Food chains, food webs and ecological pyramids, Introduction, types, characteristic features, structure and function of the following ecosystem:

- a. Forest ecosystem
- b. Grassland ecosystem
- c. Desert ecosystem
- d. Aquatic ecosystems (ponds, streams, lakes, rivers, ocean estuaries)

Biodiversity and its conservation: Introduction – Definition: genetic, species and ecosystem diversity, Bio-geographical classification of India, Value of biodiversity: consumptive use, productive use, social, ethical aesthetic and option values, Biodiversity at global, national and local levels, India as a mega-diversity nation, Hot-spots of biodiversity, Threats to biodiversity: habitat loss, poaching of wildlife, man wildlife conflicts, Endangered and endemic species of India, Conservation of biodiversity: In-situ and Ex-situ conservation of biodiversity.

UNIT III (15 Hours)

Environmental Pollution: Definition, Causes, effects and control measures of Air pollution, Water pollution, Soil pollution, Marine pollution, Noise pollution, Thermal pollution, Nuclear pollution. Solid waste management: Causes, effects and control measures of urban and industrial wastes. Role of an individual in prevention of pollution, Pollution case studies, Disaster management: floods, earthquake, cyclone and landslides.

Social Issues and the Environment: From unsustainable to sustainable development, Urban problems and related to energy, Water conservation, rain water harvesting, watershed management, Resettlement and rehabilitation of people; its problems and concerns. Environmental ethics: Issues and possible solutions, Climate change, global warming, acid rain, ozone layer depletion, nuclear accidents, and holocaust. Case studies. Wasteland reclamation, Consumerism and waste products, Environmental Protection Act, Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, Water (Prevention and control of Pollution) Act, Wildlife Protection Act, Forest Conservation Act, Issues involved in enforcement of environmental legislation, Public awareness.

UNIT IV (15 Hours)

Human Population and the Environment: Population growth, variation among nations, Population explosion – Family Welfare Programmes, Environment and human health, Human Rights, Value Education, HIV / AIDS, Women and Child Welfare, Role of Information Technology in Environment and Human Health, Case Studies.

Field Work:

- Visit to a local area to document environmental assets river/forest/grassland/hill/mountain
- Visit to a local polluted site – Urban / Rural / Industrial / Agricultural
- Study of common plants, insects, birds
- Study of simple ecosystems-pond, river, hill slopes, etc.

Ability Enhancement Course
Course Title: ENGLISH SKILLS
Course Code: AEC05AX03

Credit: L/T/P: 3/1/0

Total Hours: 40

Pedagogy of the course:

The objective of this paper is to take an integrative approach to the appropriate use of English in different situations and for different purposes. It seeks to equip the learners with skills that will enable them to cope with the demands of tertiary education. It is also intended to develop continuing proficiency in communication. It cuts across the curriculum and broadens the learners' perceptions of the world by exposing them to a variety of topics based on contemporary socio-cultural issues. The idea is to empower an average student in such a way that learning English becomes a pleasurable endeavour, and ceases to be a nightmare that it is right now.

For the course 80 percent will be Class room teaching and 20 percent will be Internal Assessment comprising Unit test, Assignments and class room participation. The evaluation method for this course will be 20 percent Internal Assessment, 20 percent Multiple Choice questions Test, and 60 percent End semester examination.

Instructions for Paper Setters:

The end semester examination will be of 3 hours and 60 marks. There shall be 9 questions in all. The first question, which would be compulsory, shall be short answer type (word limit 125 each). It would carry 06 short questions, spread over the whole syllabus. The candidate will be required to attempt all short answer type questions. Each short answer type question would carry two marks ($2 \times 6 = 12$). Rest of the paper shall contain 4 units. Each unit shall have two questions and the candidates shall be required to attempt one question from each Unit (four in all). Each question shall carry 12 marks ($12 \times 4 = 48$).

UNIT I

Module I: How Much Land Does a Man Need by Leo Tolstoy

UNDER GRADUATION PROJECT

Course Code: ENG05P601

Credits: 6

Pedagogy of the course:

The main objective of this project is to inculcate among the students, the essential skills of research, the nuances of manipulating important ideas in a logical connected manner, and its consequent documentation. The evaluation of this paper will be based on Presentation of Research work (20%) and Evaluation of Project Report (80%).

Instructions and Evaluation:

No formal teaching would be offered in the department for this course. The theme of the project is chosen at the beginning of the semester after consulting the teacher assigned for the purpose. Before the commencement of end semester exams, students shall submit a project report having pages not less than 40 pages on the research topic. If any student is unable to submit his/her project report within stipulated time then student will be considered as absent from the exam and have to re-appear in the exam as per university policy and regulations. No extensions for the submission of project work will be granted. At the end of the semester, there will be assessment of the presentations by students on their project. In their presentations, students have to explain how they have formulated the problem, on which their project report is based, the reasons for selecting the topic, the sources, hypotheses, methods, findings and conclusions. After the presentation, each student shall receive a detailed response from the teachers. The class as a whole then offers feedback, suggestions for new angles and methods, and comparative insights into links with other topics.

a) Criteria for internal assessment for presentation

The assessment committee of the department will evaluate the presentation of the students using the following criteria:

Criteria	Marks
Candidate's ability to discuss her/his research with focus and clarity	5
Depth of understanding: Candidate's defence of findings, interpretations & conclusions	5
Presentation skills (eye contact, expression, posture)	5
Candidate's use of data/evidence to support claims (slides/handouts etc)	5

b) Criteria for evaluation of project report

The project report shall be evaluated by ONE external examiner. The examiner shall evaluate the report on the basis of following criteria. External examiner shall be appointed as per University rules and regulations. The project report shall be written in English language only to develop the writing and research skills of the students except for the language departments. The following criteria and percentage weightings are to be taken into consideration by the examiners while assessing the report:

a) Explanation, contextualization and articulation of research problem and objectives (12.5%, Marks=10) :

■ Is the research problem clearly specified and contextualized?

■ Are the research questions and hypotheses clearly formulated?

■ Does the report capture the relevance, rationale and objectives of the proposed research topic?

b) Literature and/or technology review, as relevant (25%, Marks:20):

SKILL ENHANCEMENT COURSE
Course Title: ENGLISH PHONETICS
Course Code: ENG05C303 (OLD)/ ENG05KX01 (NEW)

Credits: L-T-P: 1-1-0

Total Credit Hours: 30

Related Lab: PHONETICS LABORATORY (COURSE CODE: ENG05LX02)

Pedagogy of the course:

The main objective of this course is to train the students in gaining a theoretical perspective on speech communication at various levels, by providing proactivenecessary analytical skills in speech organization skills and technical aspects of articulatory phonetics. It also aims to empower students to recognize differential pronunciation, explain the various aspects of articulation of speech sounds, and acquire practical skills such as phonetic transcription and reading of dictionaries.

For the course 80 percent will be Class room teaching and 20 percent will be Internal Assessment comprising Unit test, Assignments and class room participation. The evaluation method for this course will be 20 percent Internal Assessment, 20 percent Multiple Choice questions Test, and 60 percent End semester examination.

Instructions for Paper Setters:

The end semester examination will be of 3 hours and 60 marks. There shall be 9 questions in all. The first question, which would be compulsory, shall be short answer type (word limit 125 each). It would carry 06 short questions, spread over the whole syllabus. The candidate will be required to attempt all short answer type questions. Each short answer type question would carry two marks ($2 \times 6 = 12$). Rest of the paper shall contain 4 units. Each unit shall have two questions and the candidates shall be required to attempt one question from each Unit (four in all). Each question shall carry 12 marks ($12 \times 4 = 48$).

Note: Use of simple or scientific calculator and mathematical tables is allowed in the end semester exam.

UNIT I: Organization of Speech Production (Lectures: 10)
