"Banuwa" is a Liberian folk song most often performed during the holiday season. The music represents quality and community among the people. The simple, yet lovely, melodic line is playable by beginning bands and make this an excellent choice for the first beginning band concert.