My dear Child,

I have been able to find a Pattern & Choice, & a refusal to lend you. They belong to the Sec: <sup>of it</sup>

They should be sent tomorrow.

Best vestments I have not.

I have tried in vain: but will still endeavor to get a purple one.

By all means if Mr Moore is better in your house take him in. He is a very Good & simple young man, just advised at Times.

Give my best love to Anne at all the time & wish her all happiness. If she comes through London I shall be happy to see her

Kind regards to Mr Pittman

Yours truly,

J. W. M.
