Index Map

This is a detailed cadastral or land ownership map of a coastal region in Massachusetts. The map displays a complex network of land parcels, many of which are numbered and labeled with their respective acreages. Key geographical features include several coves (Northeast Cove, Gondola Cove), a large pond (Center Pond), and a brook (Falls Brook). A prominent road, likely Highway 1A, runs diagonally through the center of the map. Other roads shown include Bright Road, Thistle Rd., Mill Point Road, and Oliver Libby Rd. Various towns and regions are identified by red numbers: 36, 35, 34, 32, 41, 42, 43, 44, 08, 09, and 10. Specific locations like 'The Basin' and 'Cooley Preserve' are also noted. The map uses different shades of gray and yellow to distinguish between various types of land or administrative boundaries. Arrows indicate directions of travel or flow along roads and waterways. The overall layout shows a mix of developed areas with small lots and larger, more open tracts of land.
