

Punctuating Quotations

This lesson reviews the things you have already learned about punctuating sentences that have quotations.

You know you need to put quotation marks around the exact words someone said.

“Whom do ye say that I am?” asked Jesus.

You know that you need to put commas between the exact words a person said and the name of the person who said them.

Peter replied, “Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.”
“Come with me,” said Mother.

When the name of the speaker is in the middle of the sentence, place a comma on each side of the words that say who is speaking. Remember to put the first comma inside of the quotation mark.

“Come unto Me,” said Jesus, “and I will give you rest.”

Always begin the first part of a quotation with a capital letter. But, unless the second part of the quotation is a new sentence, you do not need a capital letter.

“I’ll be there in a minute,” called the clerk, “if you will wait.”
“Sure, I can wait,” replied the customer. “Don’t rush.”

Place commas where they are needed.

1. “Is there anything” asked Davis “that I can do for you?”
2. “The repairman called and said the car is ready” announced Freda.

Place quotation marks where they are needed.

3. Justin replied, I have to water the garden before I can play ball.
4. I can hardly stop reading, sighed Roxanne. This is the best book I’ve ever read.

Lesson 3

Place commas and quotation marks where they are needed.

5. These old shoes are so leaky that I might as well go barefoot laughed Karen.
6. I'll get you a new pair tomorrow said Mother when I go to town.
7. Please get soft-soled shoes said Karen. I don't like hard-soled ones.

Write a quotation that each of these people might say. Place the name of the speaker in the middle of the sentence.

- 8. a mother to her naughty child _____

- 9. a student to his friend at recess _____

- 10. a boy to his dog _____

Lesson 4

A Hint

You’ve learned how to find adverbs—by looking for words that answer the questions where? when? and how? about the verb. Now here’s a hint about adverbs for you:

Knowing this hint can help you find adverbs more quickly. But remember two things:

- Not all words that end in ly are adverbs.

He is a jolly man. (Jolly is an adjective.)

- Not all adverbs end in ly.

Johnny came to school late. (Late is an adverb.)

Even with the hint to help you, the best way to find adverbs is to find the verb first, and then ask where? when? or how?

Circle the verbs and underline the adverbs.

1. Lila wrote a thank-you note to her grandparents yesterday.
2. Randy glimpsed the deer as it swiftly leaped away.
3. The milkman is late today and will be again tomorrow.
4. The ugly little dog barked wildly.

Answer the question with a complete sentence.
