

The Twins

One day Mom said to the twins, “Come here, girls. Please take some green beans to Miss Duke. Miss Duke does not have beans.”

“But, Mom, Miss Duke’s hill is very steep,” said Faith. “It is too hot to-day.”

“I will do it,” said Fay. “You do not need to come, Faith. I can do it by my-self.”

Fay got the bag of beans and went to Miss Duke's.

"Come in," said Miss Duke. "Oh,
what nice beans! Thank you very much!
Are you Faith? I can't tell which twin you are."

Fay had to smile. "I am Fay. See, I have a little spot on my face. Faith does not have one. Now you can tell which twin I am."

“Oh, good,” said Miss Duke. “I am glad I can tell now who you are. It is hot to-day. Will you eat an ice cream cone? I will eat one too.”

“Thank you,” Fay said. “That looks good!”

Fay had a nice time with Miss Duke.
Then Fay went home.

“I had an ice cream cone with Miss Duke,” said Fay. “I had fun!”

“Oh,” said Faith. “I wish I had one
too. Next time I will not fuss. I will obey Mom.”
