

Look! here's a tiny grain of corn;
    Inside is God's surprise;
For no one else could make a seed
    But our great God so wise!

The farmer plows the deep, dark earth,
    Before the winter storm.
The soil awaits beneath the snow
    Till springtime makes it warm.

