

Utah Legal Services presents
Domestic Lawyers Academy
Fall 2020 Session

Looking for a safe environment to learn the basics of a domestic practice?
Feel unprepared to take on a family law case?

This is a great opportunity to develop a domestic practice by seeing a pro bono case through the entire process, with support at each step of the way.

Cases are available in all judicial districts with trainings held remotely over web conference and telephone. Utah Legal Services will also provide access to online CLE self-study learning modules and mentorship from experienced family law attorneys.

Classes held Thursday evenings: October 22nd, October 29th, November 5th, November 12th, and November 19th, by webinar from 5:30-6:30pm. This is a five-week session, with different content each week. Participants are expected to attend all five webinars.

What does Domestic Lawyers Academy include?

- Taking a pro bono case (custody or divorce) start to finish
- Instruction by experienced attorneys, including Q&A opportunities
- Access to Utah Legal Services' Domestic Online Module Courses
- Mentorship during your case
- Access to templates and documents needed for domestic cases
- Malpractice coverage on your pro bono case
- As many as 12 hours of CLE Credit at no charge
- A great learning experience
- Networking with other practitioners

And most significantly, fulfilling pro bono work for clients in need.

To sign up, please follow this link and fill out the form. For questions, email Tatiana Christensen, Utah Legal Services Pro Bono Director, at tchristensen@utahlegalservices.org, or call 801-328-8891 ext. 3373. Thank you!