Kaiholena is a small off-grid gated community of a dozen large lots, zoned for agriculture, along the sunny Kohala Coast north of the resorts and Kawaihae Harbor as you drive the coastal road towards Hawi. This 8.66 acre parcel is vacant except for grazing cattle, which keeps the tax bill low if you want to buy now and build later. Possibly the best thing about this lot is that it is just above the highway, and all the land below the highway down to the ocean has been preserved through a series of public purchases...so nothing can ever be built in your view plane.
