This home captures all of the benefits of the popular "Off Grid" movement along with the beauty and tropical temperatures of the Big Island of Hawaii. Two fairly level acres are packed with fruit trees including Oranges, Tangerine, Lemon, Lychee, Rambutan, Star Fruit, Banana, Coconut, Guava, Pineapple and many other tropical plants. There are three living structures on this land. Begin with a bright and airy yurt nestled in the privacy of the surrounding jungle. Fully off grid, this home uses solar energy with back up batteries to power all of the necessities.
