CENTER FIRST CHARACTER UNDER THIS ARROW

1ST SLUG LINE

2ND SLUG LINE

START COPY HERE

april 4,1980

dear chol, KOREATOWN Weekly, after all, like yourself, has survived a life-and-death battle. we are here to live for months to come. we can stuggle to survive.

so forget what i have written youx about the ~~coming~~ possible closing of koreatown weekly. we will live.
yungmin and rev. lester kim are to visit with you on april 11 or 12, i believe. i hope you write us with your impression of the coming meeting between you and kim. it would be very very heart-warming--to all of us who care. so don't hesitate to write to us about your feelings and thoughts.

and, of course, i am asking yungmin kim to do the same. please mention it to yungmin.

i must stop here, because i have to rush to sacramento to put out the paper. on the road again. i feel like having aged 10 years since i started this damn thing.

by the way, we had a good get-together of the bay area group, the l. a. group, and jay yoo here at AGAPE fellowship office last weekend. we are going to have a big letter writing drive. i met another beautiful woman, dianx of s. f. ranko was, of course, there. we had a nice visit--and bulkogui.
do you remember this phrase--koreans never die! ha,ha.
we are a resilient people.

we face x hectic weeks to come, because to survivie we must get advertising from korean business people. that's the way to survivie..and get subscriptions too. or we will not survive. newspapering is a business enterprise, i have learned the hard way. i have been a reporter all my adult life, and never thought it takes money---hard-earned money--to keep the newspaper alive.

write whenever you can, although i may not be able to write oftener. your letter peps me up. write, young man. and try to study english hard. you have a natural gift for saying like it is. what you need is a tool of make your thoughts readable.

yrs in freedom

kyung won

DO NOT TYPE BELOW THIS LINE — EXCEPT IT SCANFOAT LINE

