CAMPUS LIFE

LIVING

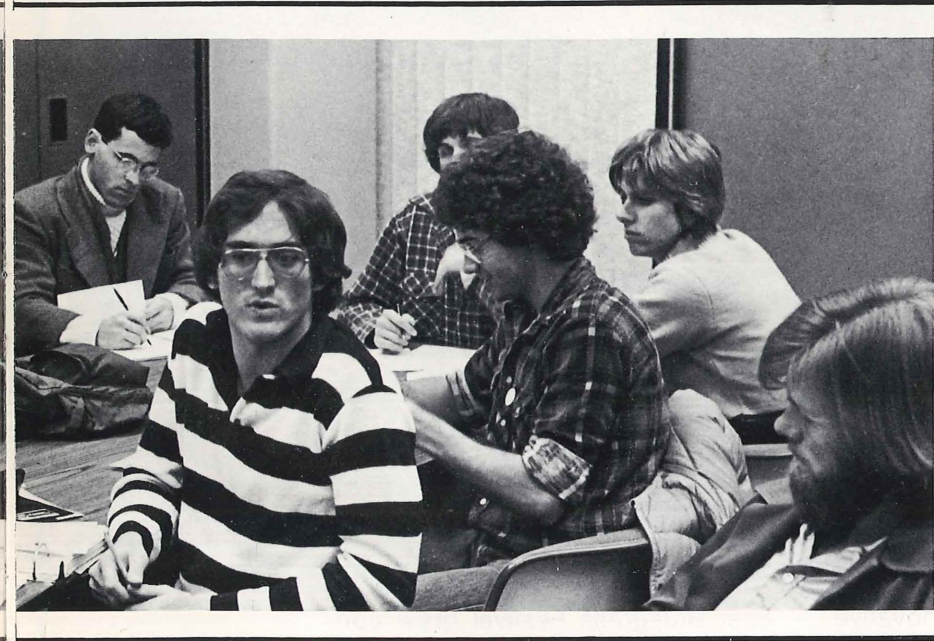

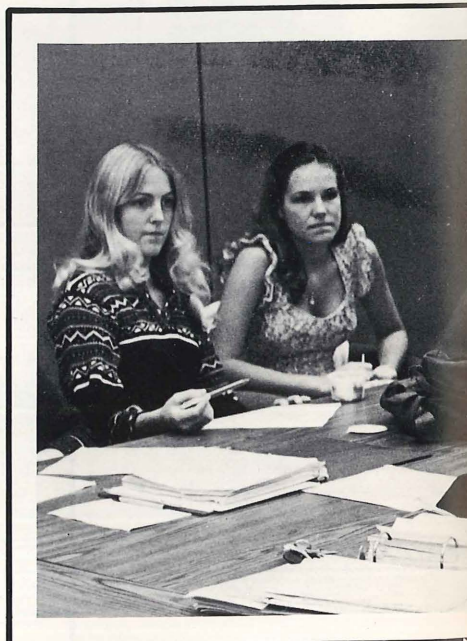

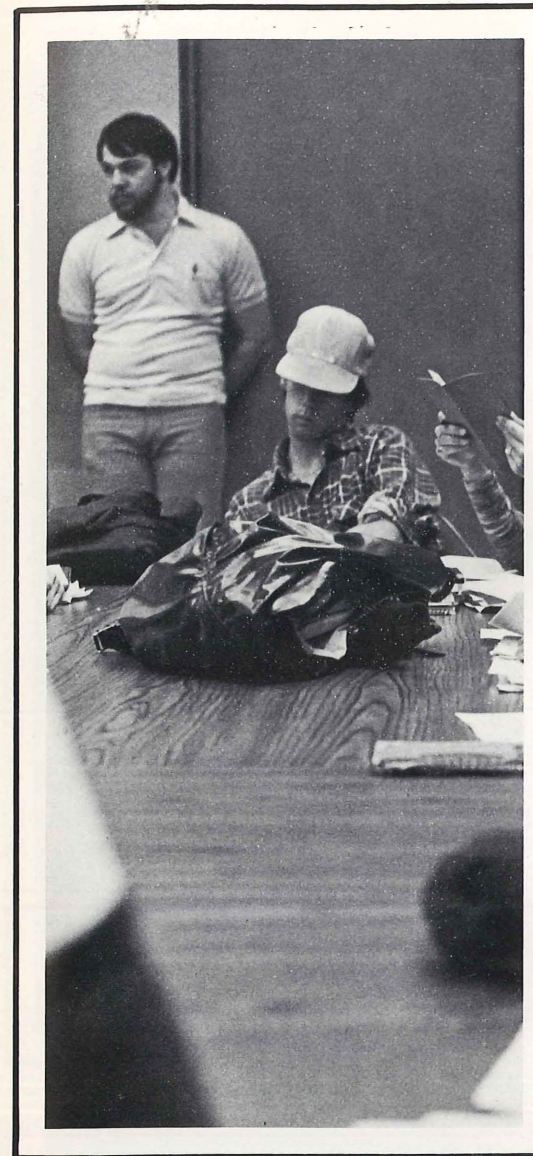

ASUCI

Fall quarter 1978 whizzed by for the 20 representatives and 5 executive officers of the Associated Students' Council. President Steve Kaplan and Vice Presidents Karen Bjorneby, Jennifer Janz, Linda Mills and Bill Caraccio pinpointed additional housing (both on and off campus), increasing campus activity and reducing the high cost of living as major concerns of UCI students. To meet these concerns, the Council put emphasis on completing the designs for the new University Center and participating in the planned expansion of Town Center to include apartments. By sponsoring major concerts and pep rallies, the Council also endeavored to foster a more collegial atmosphere on campus.

ASUCI

ASUCI represented UCI students on the state and local levels, as well as within the university system. Organizations that ran the gamut from the California Student Lobby to the Irvine Company found UCI represented at their meetings. Within the university itself, students participated in the selection of visiting faculty members through the Student Recommended Faculty Program and held membership in a variety of administrative committees ranging from Minority Affairs to Publications.

Special organizations that were coordinated or publicized through ASUCI included the Cooperative Recycling Center and the innovative Experimental College that offered classes in disco dancing, photography and gourmet cooking.

To serve students academically, the Council appointed a Commissioner of Student Grievances and a Commissioner of Educational Policy; each office provided a communications link between the students and the university.

Probably the most conspicuous productions of ASUCI were the entertainment programs. Weekly films, concerts, speakers, publications and radio broadcasts (from student operated KUCI radio) enhanced student life. Speakers in 1979 included Timothy Leary and Carl Sagan. November found Peter Gabriel in concert at Crawford Hall. While the First Bluegrass Festival drew considerable crowds, the spring Wazygoose Festival remained a campus favorite.

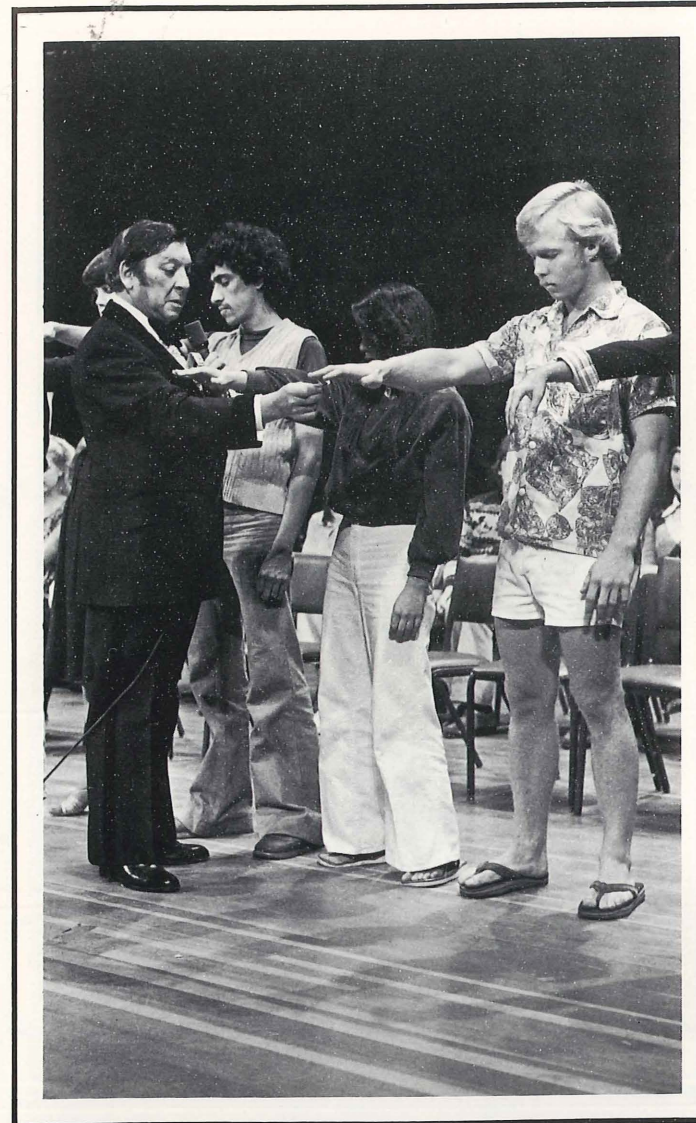

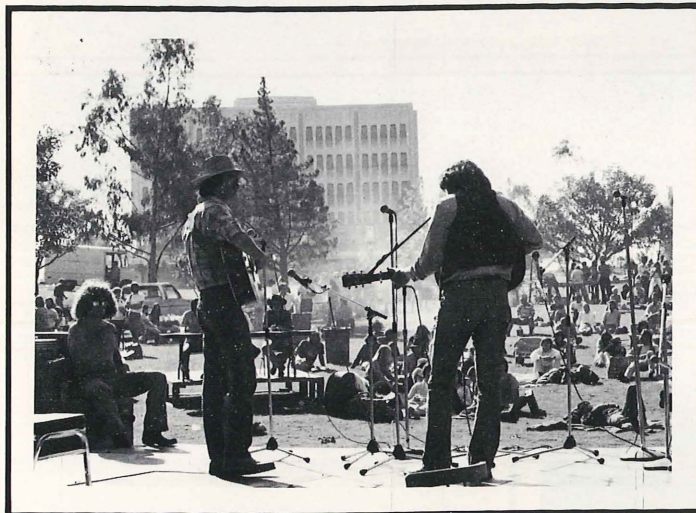

Eye-catching bins (left) adorn UCI offices, compliments of the Co-operative Recycling Center. Students look forward to ASUCI publications like the New University (below) and relax at outdoor concerts (bottom) by bands like Roto. ASUCI Grievance Commissioner handles student complaints (opposite page).

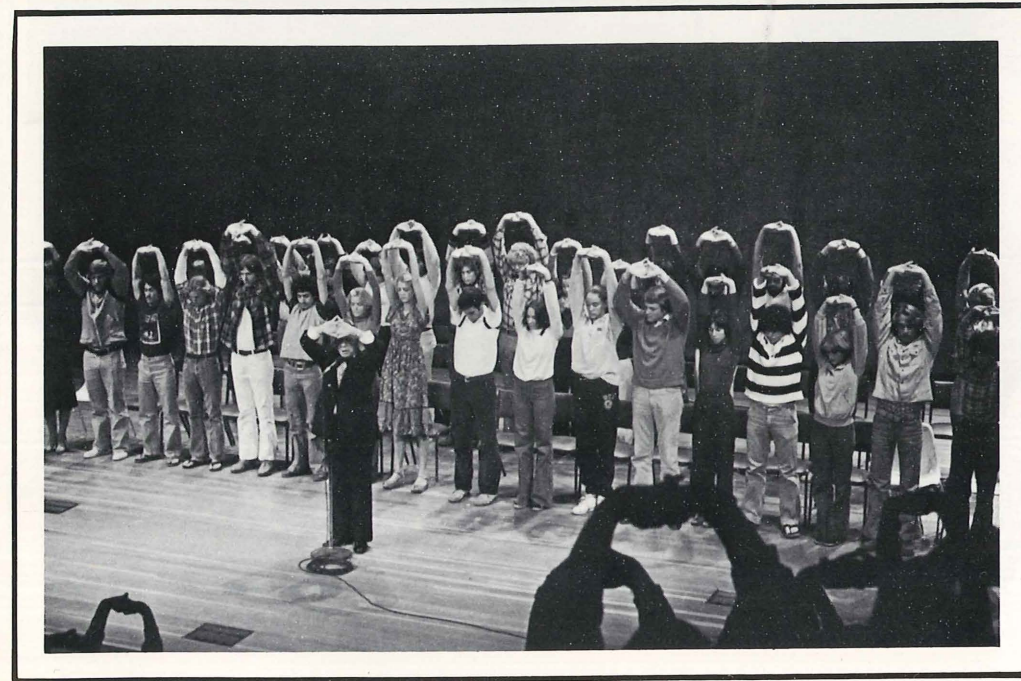

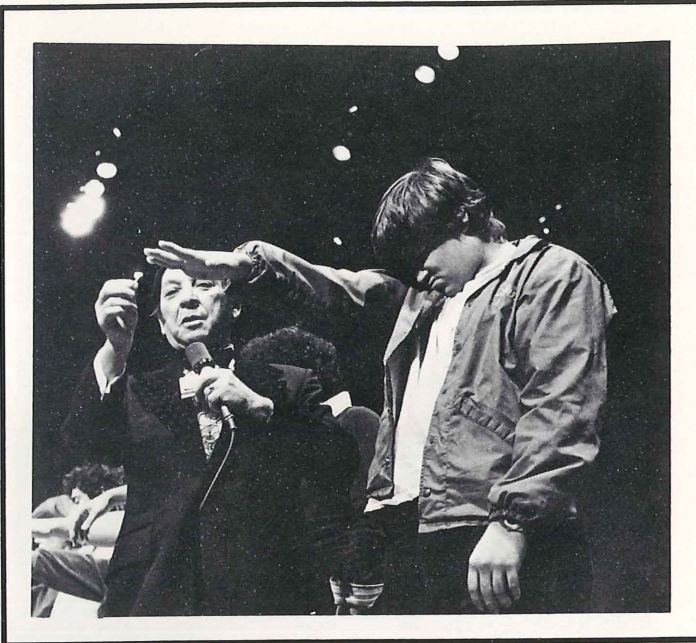

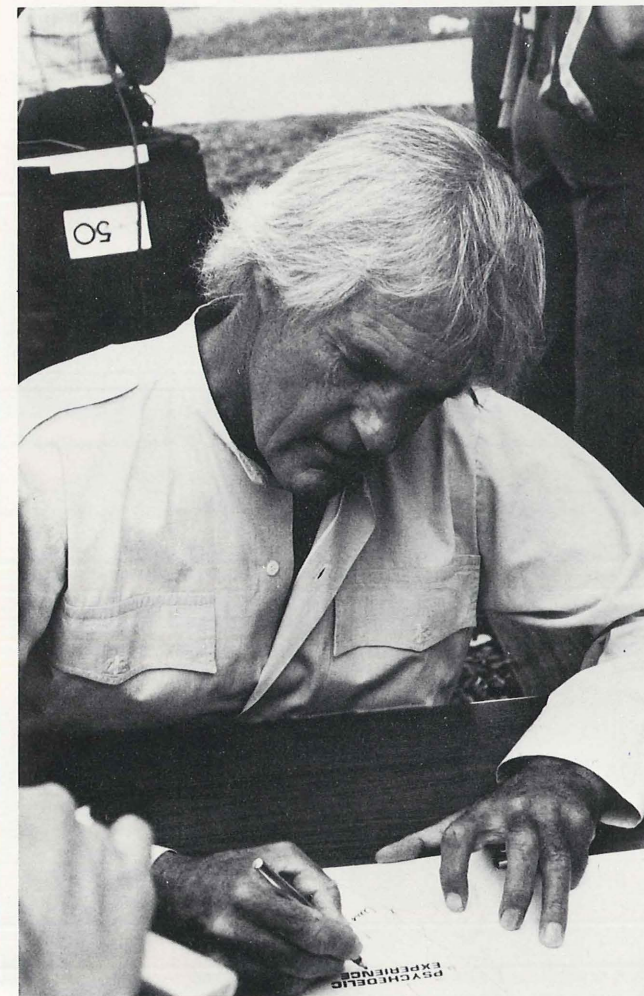

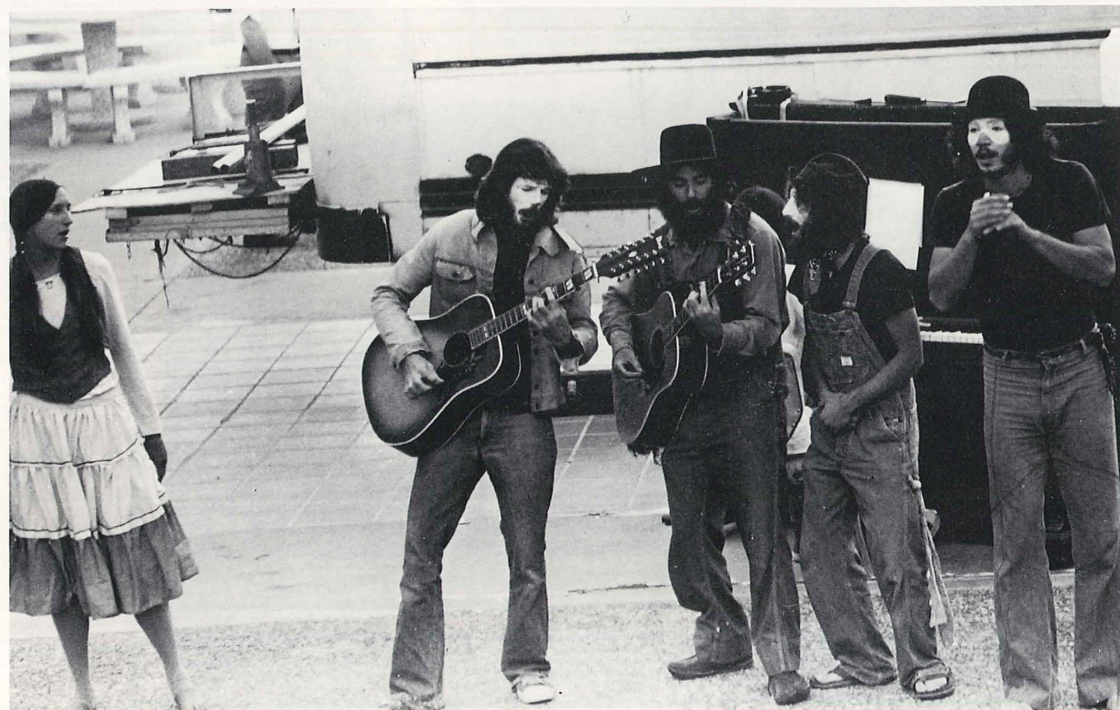

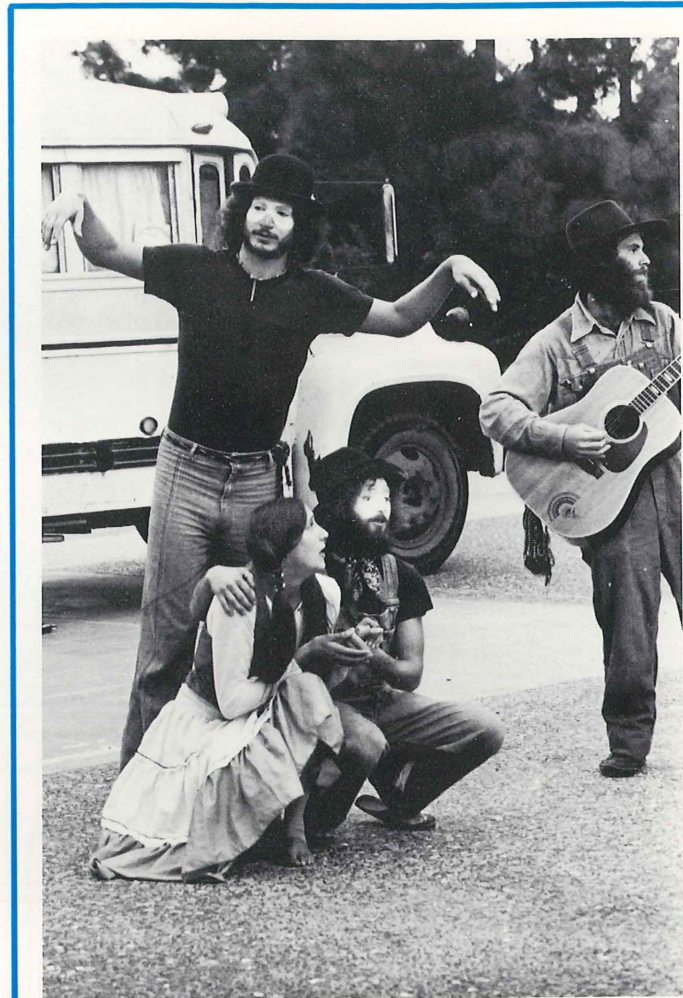

O Week Faire (right) brings talented musicians to Campus Park. Campus Park is the stage for the first annual UCI Bluegrass festival (below).

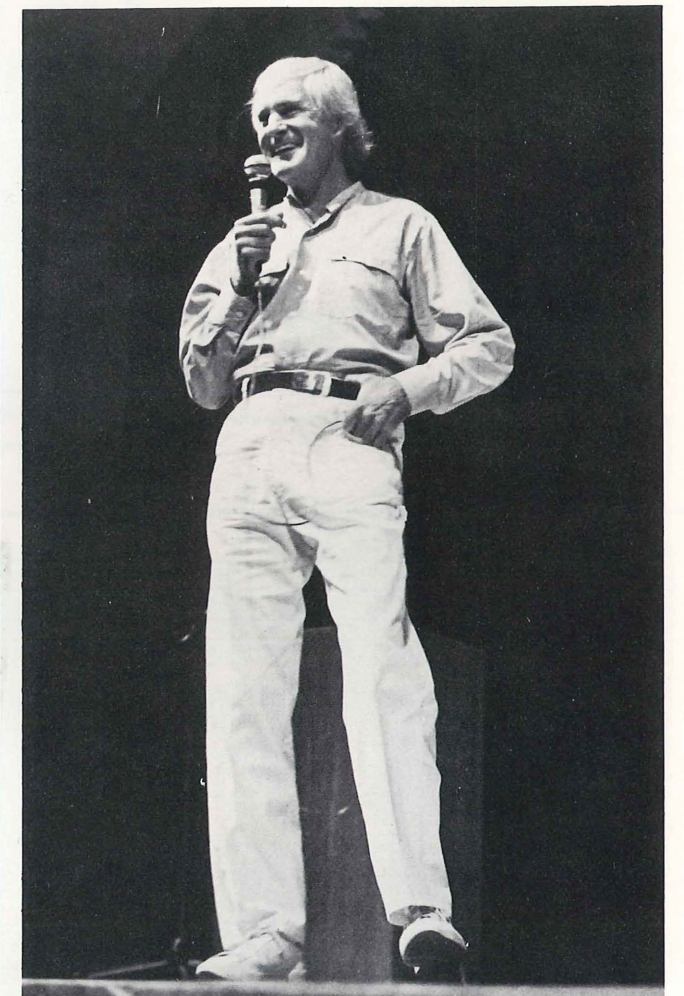

Hypnotist Edwin Baron puts Irvine's students in a trance.

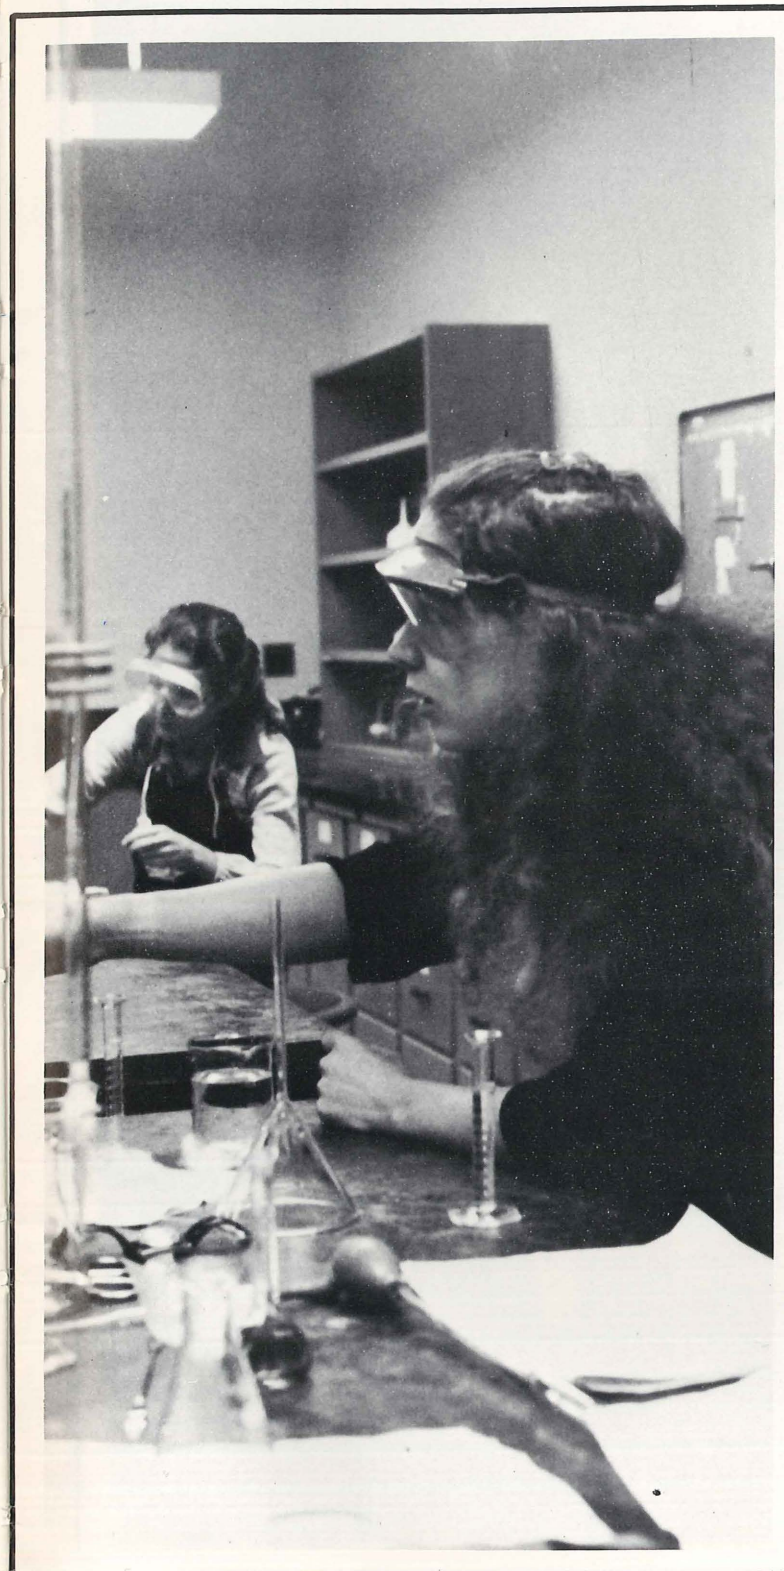

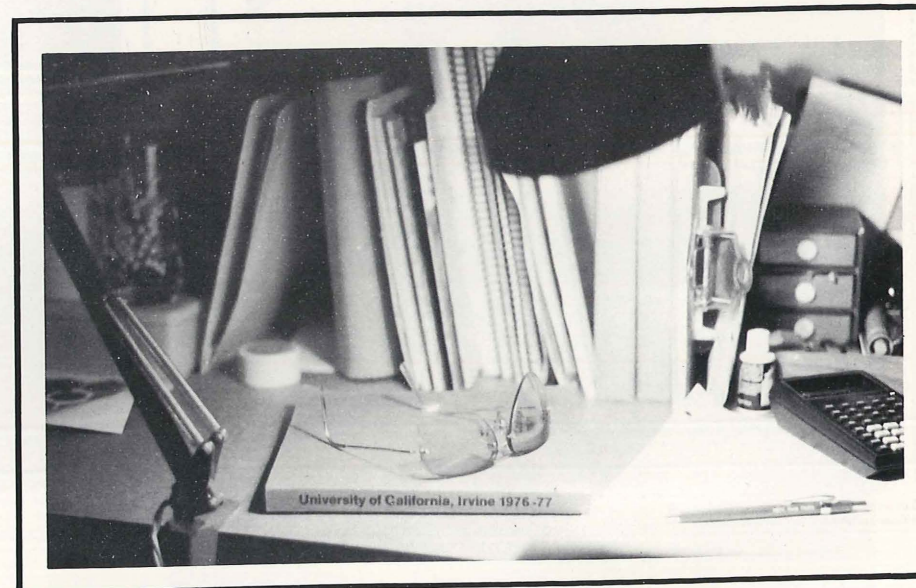

Mime troupe sings and dances away the noon hour in Gateway Plaza

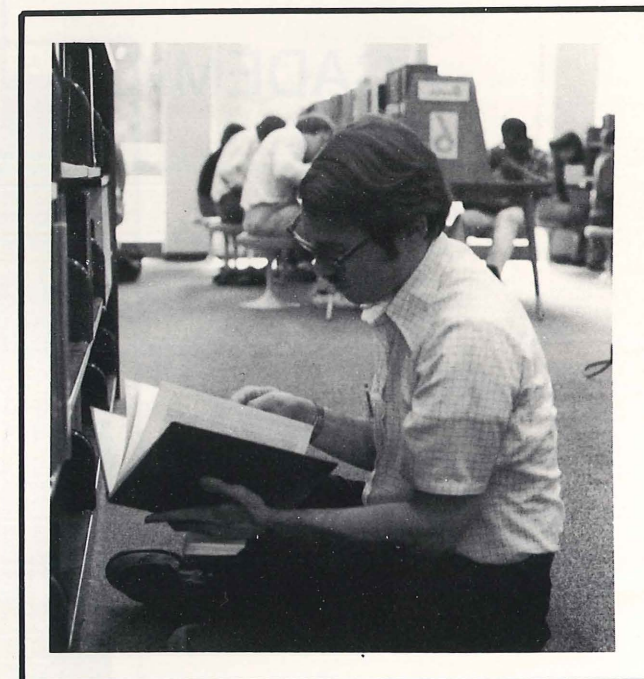

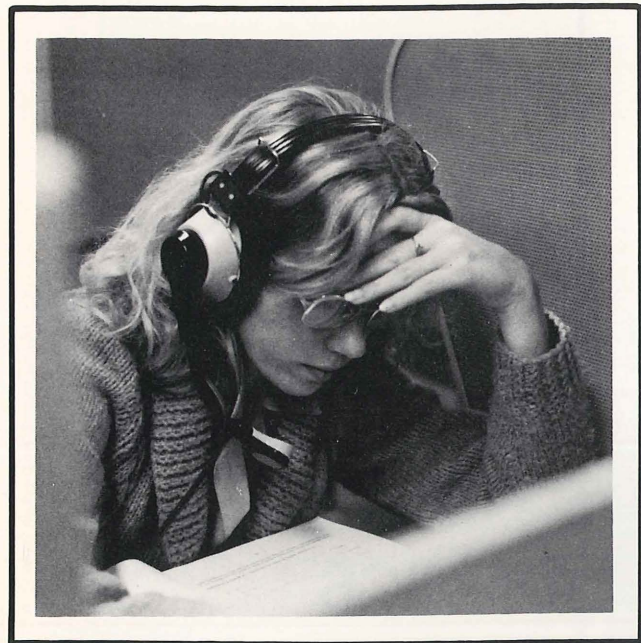

Dr. Timothy Leary visits the Irvine Campus, autographing books by day, lecturing by night.

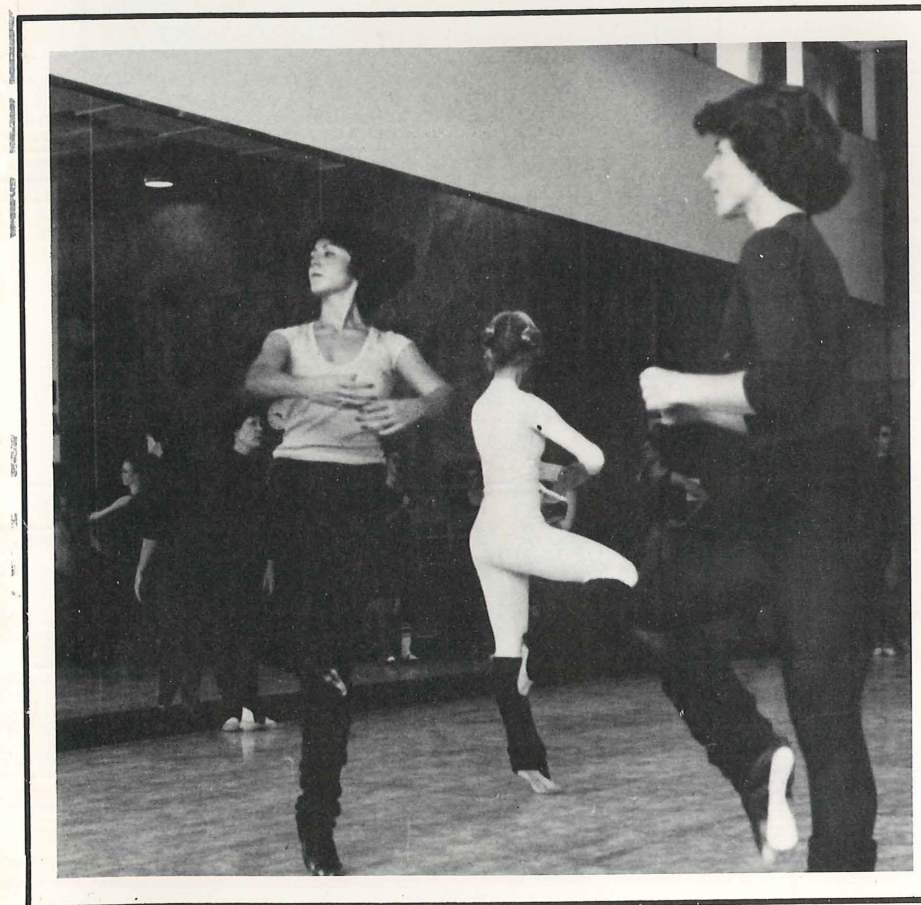

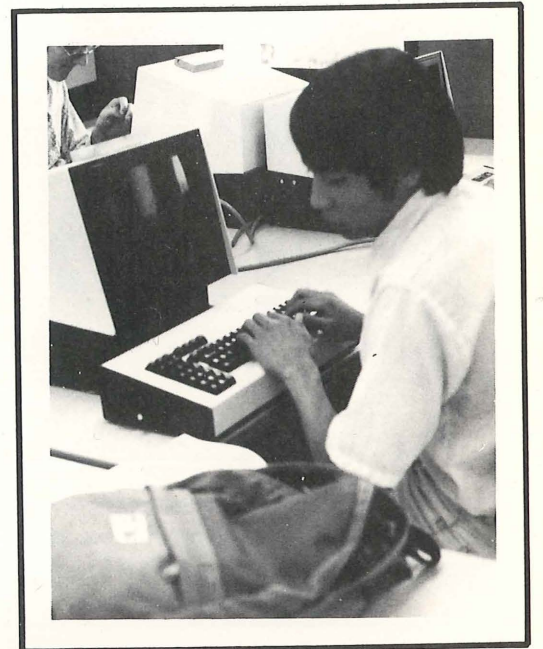

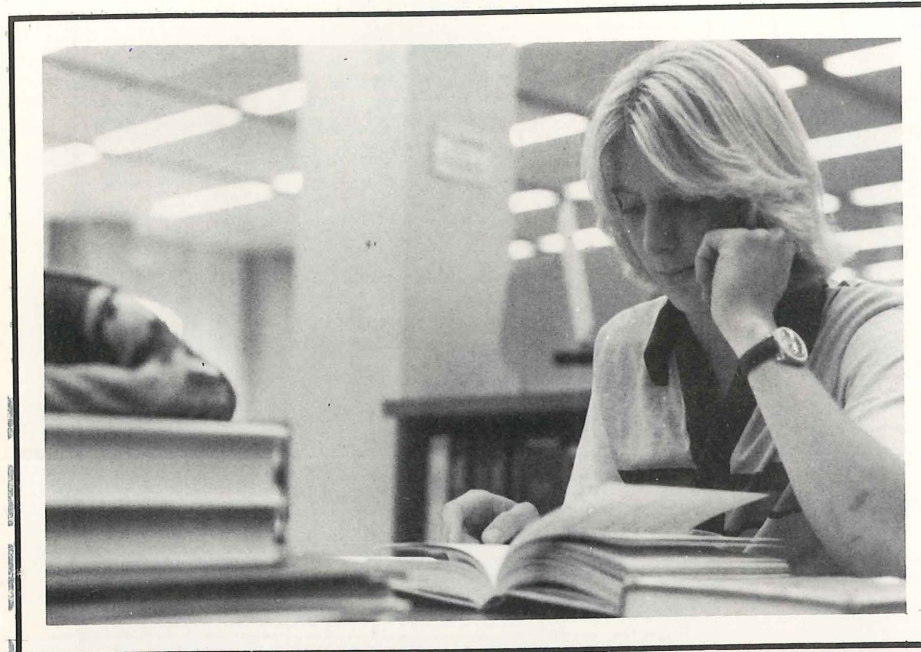

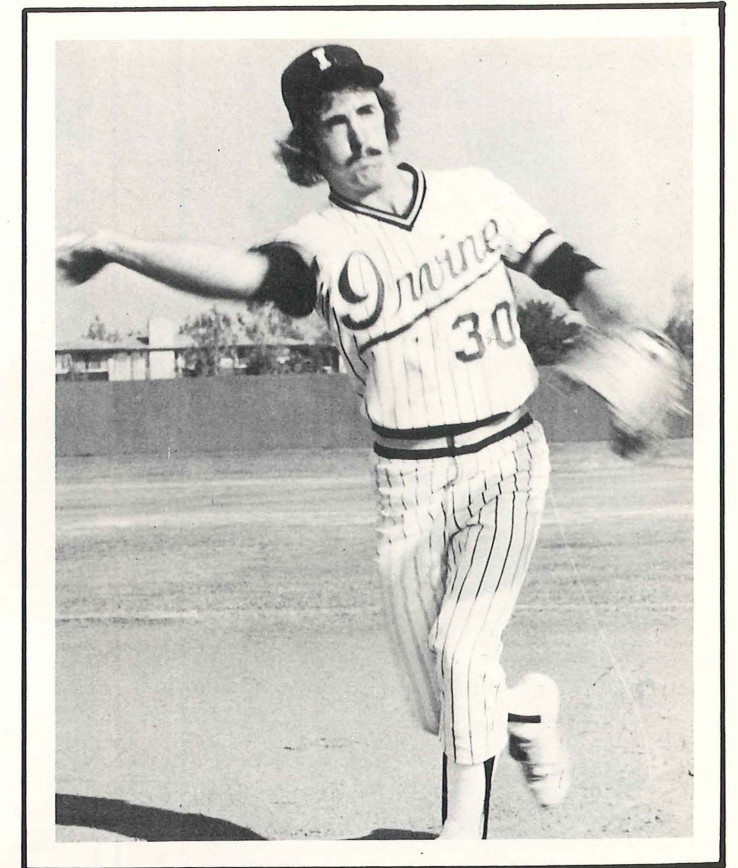

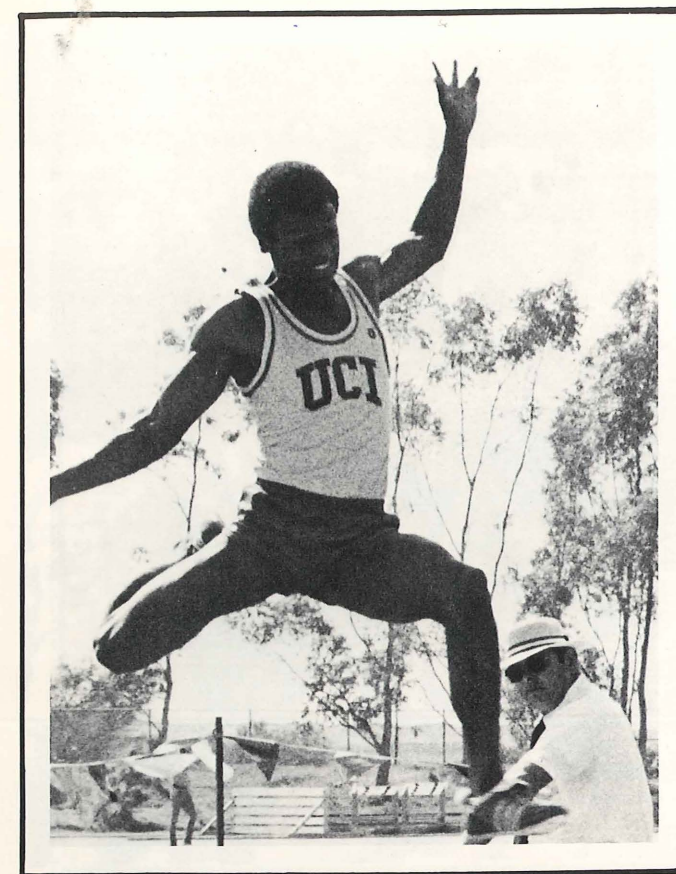

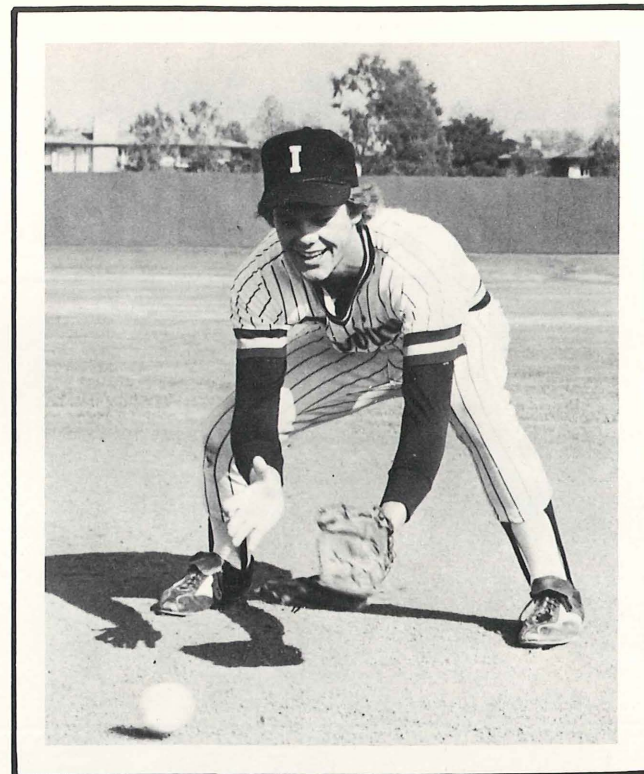

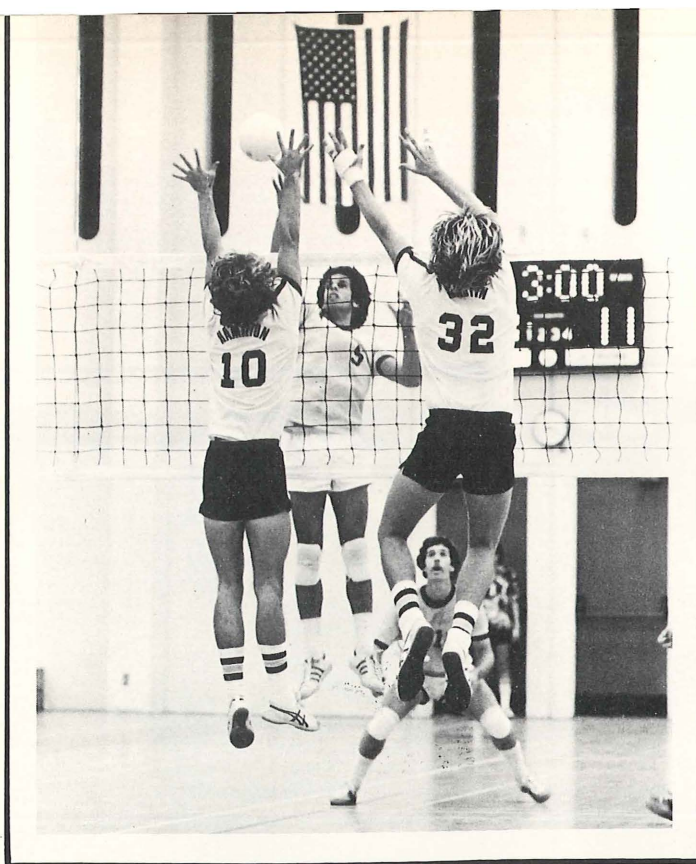

ACADEMICS

SPORTS

ORGANIZATIONS

Academic, recreational, and Greek organizations all experienced growth and revitalization during the 1978-79 academic year. The Linguistics Club made its debut on campus, while the Pre-Law Society inaugurated a legal lecture series and sponsored a trip to Bay Area law schools. Meanwhile, the Humanities Dean's Advisory Council opened new channels of communication between faculty and students, and the UCI Chamber Singers hosted a complete Renaissance dinner. The sororities and fraternities on campus enjoyed a full calendar of social events while at the same time lending their time and talent to a wide range of activities including the Red Cross Blood Drive, the Tay Sachs Testing Program, and the Third Annual Alumni Telefund.
