

Robert Fisher

President, Board of Trustees

Robert Fisher has served as President of the Board of the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art (SFMOMA) since 2010 and has been a trustee of the museum since 2003. Fisher has served on SFMOMA's Collections Campaign, Committee on Trustees, Construction Oversight, Development, Digital Experience, Executive, Expansion Campaign, Governance and Human Resources Committees, and was a member of the Architect Selection Committee. He also played a crucial role in forging the landmark partnership between the Fisher family and SFMOMA.

Fisher is Chairman of Gap Inc. and has served on the company's board since 1990. He has spent his career at the retailer, leading in operating capacities including COO and President of Gap brand.

In 2009, Fisher and his wife, Randi, founded the Pisces Foundation, focusing on environmental education, water resources, and climate and energy. Fisher was appointed by California Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger in 2009 as the only public member of the Strategic Growth Council (SGC) and was appointed to be Vice Chair of the organization in 2014 by Governor Jerry Brown. The SGC brings together agencies and departments within the California state government to support sustainable communities, emphasizing strong economies, social equity and environmental stewardship. Fisher also serves on the Board of Trustees for Conservation International as a member of the Executive Committee.

Born and raised in San Francisco, Fisher attended Princeton University, where he received a BA in English literature, and Stanford University Graduate School of Business, where he received an MBA.
