

University High School Athletics Care Team

Provider Guide

Team Physicians

Jenna Walls, MD

Jenna Walls, MD, is a fellowship-trained sports medicine physician who is also board-certified in family medicine. She practices at Riverview Health Physicians Orthopedics & Sports Medicine and is excited to help keep student athletes in the game. A former athlete herself, Dr. Walls strives to help student athletes meet their performance goals. Dr. Walls is experienced in treating concussions and in non-operative management of musculoskeletal issues.

Scott Smith, MD

Scott Smith, MD, is an orthopedic surgeon and fellowship-trained sports medicine physician at Riverview Health Physicians Orthopedics & Sports Medicine. Dr. Smith specializes in arthroscopic and reconstructive surgery of the shoulder and knee and sports medicine. As a former athlete, Dr. Smith understands the importance of utilizing a team-based approach with his patients—working closely with specialists from multiple disciplines to offer operative and non-operative treatments.

---

Team Athletic Trainers

Betsy Bradley, MEd, LAT, ATC

Betsy is a certified and licensed athletic trainer. She earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology with emphases in athletic training and physical education at Indiana University. During this time, Betsy worked primarily with the football and women's basketball teams. She went on to receive her Masters of Education from the University of Arkansas. There, she worked with the cheer and dance teams, as well as the mascots. Betsy also served as the athletic trainer for Park Tudor School.