Dr. Courtney French is a board certified Otolaryngologist, Head and Neck Surgeon. He has extensive experience providing both surgical and minimally invasive treatment options for the ears, nose and throat to ensure maximal benefit with minimal risk and down time. Furthermore, Dr. French has served as an advanced trainer in office based Balloon Sinuplasty and sinus and snoring surgery. As a leader in this field, Dr. French has taught physicians from around the country how to perform these techniques.

Together as a team at Southern ENT Specialists, Dr. French provides care for multiple issues such as snoring and sleep apnea, chronic sinusitis, allergies, ear fullness, hearing loss and infection, congestion, headaches and sore throats.

Dr. French earned his medical degree at Loma University. He then completed his residency at Loma Linda University in general surgery and his internship in Otolaryngology.

Dr. French has a special interest in adult and pediatric disorders of sinuses and sleep disturbance. In particular, he is interested in the use of endoscopic surgical techniques in the approach to these diseases, as well as thyroid and parathyroid surgery. At Loma Linda University, Dr. French received extensive instruction in these techniques in one of the highest volume surgical residencies on the west coast. He has also furthered his training through numerous courses in the areas of advanced endoscopic sinus surgery, laryngeal surgery, minimally invasive endoscopic endocrine surgery in the head and neck, and advanced techniques in otologic surgery. Through these advanced training opportunities, Dr. French has received hands-on training and direct surgical instruction with pioneers in these fields from Stanford University, Vanderbilt University, University of Pittsburgh, and the House Ear Institute.

Dr. French is a member of the American Board of Otolaryngology, American Academy of Otolaryngology, Georgia Society of Otolaryngology and American Laryngological, Rhinological, and Otolological Society.
