Message from the Coaches: There is a tremendous opportunity for runners to compete for Varsity spots. Competition is good for the team and by following the attached training schedule, including Tiger Core and Drills/Strides, athletes will put themselves in great shape for transition into our practice routine and to be competitive.

The coaches are looking forward to a successful 2018 season. Our goal again this year is to build and get stronger through the season and peak for Districts, Sectionals and State.

“CHAMPIONS ARE MADE IN THE SUMMER!”

500 Mile Club: The 500 mile club is a very exclusive group. Athletes all across the State who want to be Missouri's best runners in November are running 500 miles over the summer. Our Oakville 500 mile program will get you to that magical total in a very safe way by building your mileage each week. We give you ranges for many of your runs. Run the high end of the range and you'll be over 500 for the summer!

350 Mile Club: 350 miles for the summer is still a great total and we encourage all of our returning runners to aim for this number. It takes a lot of dedication and requires running six days a week almost every single week all summer long. Runners with 350 or more miles on their legs coming into the season are much more likely to be ready for the hard workouts we'll be doing in the fall and they're certainly more likely to be setting PR's once the races begin.

150 Mile Club: We recommend the 150 mile club for incoming freshman or returning sophomores/juniors/seniors with very little running experience. It is important, even for beginners, to run over the summer so they are ready when practice begins in August. Trust us....you'll be glad you did!

DEFINITIONS:

Easy Runs- Easy runs will make up the vast majority of your summer running. On your easy runs you should be running at a pace that's slow enough to where you can carry on a conversation. These runs will help build aerobic endurance....a key factor in cross country running.

Cutdown Tempo Runs- Always warm-up before these workouts. The tempo run itself should start at 45 seconds slower than your 5k race pace and get 10 seconds each faster each mile. Always cool-down after the workout. 350 and 500 club should warm-up 2 miles and cool-down 2 miles. 150 club should go 1 mile.

Even Tempo Runs- These should be run at 20-30 seconds slower than your 5k race pace and the goal is to run each mile at the same pace. Just like the cutdown tempos you should always warm-up and cool-down before and after.

Tiger Core- Core work is essential for cross country runners. A strong core will keep your form strong even when you're tired and it will help you stay smooth even across rough terrain. See attached sheet for the full Tiger Core Routine.

Drills/Strides- The summer is the time for base training so we don't do a lot of fast running during these months. However, that doesn't mean we don't at least touch the speed just a little and drills/strides are the perfect way to do that. See attached sheet for more info.

TIGER CORE ROUTINE

For CORE, each exercise lasts for the same amount of time. Beginners should start at 15-30 seconds. The goal is to build to one minute for each.

1. Shoulder Crunches: only shoulders off the ground knees in crunch position.
2. Real Crunches: small of back touches the ground then up till stomach stops flexing.
3. Boat: shoulders and legs off the ground. Hold position.
4. Keel Boat (Floppy Fish): on stomach, arms and legs extended, right-left up, left-right up.
5. Side Crunches: on side with arms clasped in front.
6. Leg Over Crunch: one leg crossed in front, opposite arm around head, elbow to knee.
7. Leg Lifts: legs at 45 degrees, then just above ground , then back to 45 degrees.
8. Reverse Crunch: on stomach, hands clasped behind head, head and chest raises
9. Leg Up Crunches: legs bent in air, head up to legs lifting chest.
10. Bike-Kick: on back, legs in fast pedal, cross arms over the body with each leg stroke.
11. Up Dog Stretch: on stomach, feet and legs flat, head and chest stretch up, hips down.

DRILLS/STRIDES

Each Drill should be 30-50 meters in length (unless otherwise noted). Strides should be 100 meters.

1. Walking Skips: Just like a kid! Stay on your midfoot when you land and make sure your right arm swings as your left comes off the ground and vice versa.
2. Power Skips: Same as above but instead of walking we want you to power off the ground and get some air time!
3. Butt-Kicks: Keep your feet right underneath your butt. Don't "reach" back behind your butt. Your feet should spend very little time on the ground.
4. High Knees: Similar to above but now you raise your knee out in front of you parallel with you midsection. Get up and down as quickly as you can.
5. Bounds: Exaggerated running. No Skipping! Power off those toes and get a full range of motion.
6. Cartocacs: Side-to-side drill. Check it out here: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XjuE4DKw0Hg>
7. Backwards Running: Just like it sounds. Works the hamstrings. As you get better you'll go quicker and quicker.
8. Fast Feet: Imagine there is a tiny rope across the ground every few inches. Get up and down as quickly as possible and as many times as you can in about 20-25 meters.
9. Strides: Start out at an easy jog, then gradually increase speed to 85-90% max, jog back down the last 10 meters.
