8 MILK AND COOKIES DRIVE, NORTH POLE

Dear

On behalf of the Department of Elf Management I'm pleased to announce that you have officially been placed on the Nice List. Because of your long history of choosing nice over naughty as reported by your elf, Santa no longer feels the need to require daily reports. This is a huge achievement that you and your family should be quite proud of!

Today is the day that your elf has been waiting for! Now that nightly reports are no longer required you can officially adopt your elf into your family. This means you may play with it and touch it whenever you like!

Santa will continue to monitor your Naughty vs. Nice status randomly so please continue to make good choices. We all make mistakes sometimes but learning from them and trying to always treat others how you would want to be treated is what is important.

Please keep your promotion to the Nice List private, as not all children you know may have received their promotion yet.

Congratulations again on this great accomplishment.

Sincerely,

Crystal McSnowflakes, Jr
