SMART WOMEN MAKE MONEY™

THE DIGITAL PROGRAM

Welcome to Smart Women Make Money

I'm thrilled that you're ready to create a new relationship with money and clear what's blocking you from earning, saving, or manifesting.

Helping women to become more prosperous, empowered and independent is my greatest joy. This is the work that I believe I was born to do.

It's time for women to stop having less, earning less, and settling for less.

I designed this course to help you create the mindset for success.

You'll uncover what you think and believe about money. You'll practice forgiveness for any money mistakes you've made and forgive anyone else who has caused you anger or frustration around money.

You'll go back into your past to discover your family money beliefs and then understand how they might be driving your behavior with money in your life.

You'll learn how to work with your limiting beliefs and fears about money by clearing them with tapping – the emotional freedom technique.

I'll show you how to use the Work of Byron Katie on your most deeply held money beliefs. This is the industrial strength method of working a belief that is emotional painful or fearful.

You'll learn how to set up a balanced money plan and give your money the attention it wants and deserves.

Finally, I share interviews with women who are successful entrepreneurs. They share their wisdom about sales, self-worth and other topics related to money.

You can work through each module in a few hours each week. The videos are short lessons and then you'll have step-by-step worksheets that you can fill out.

Share what you learn each week or what you manifest as you clear clutter. Please post this in the private Facebook forum.

You'll transform your financial life if you commit to being here. What you'll learn in this course is a blend of the practical and the magical.

I've woven in manifesting techniques throughout the whole program to make this a lot of fun.

Here's to your new financial future.
