

Editorial Process

Submit Proposal

Due to the high volume of submissions, response time may vary

Internal Editorial Assessment

The Editor will assess the strengths of your proposal and how well it fits with the subject list

Initial Peer Review

Your proposal will be sent out for initial peer review (4-6 weeks)

Sign Contract

Key parts of the contract include length, royalties, copyright, and the delivery date

Editorial Board Meeting

If approved for publication, the contract terms are determined

The Marketing team starts work on a plan

Discuss Reviews

Potentially revise and resubmit proposal based on reviewer feedback and discussions with your Editor

Writing Phase

May include peer reviews or work with a Development Editor

Talk to your Editor about content issues

Manuscript Delivery

Submit your final manuscript, working with an Editorial Assistant on formatting and permissions queries

Production

Production Editor assigned
Copyediting and Typesetting
Proofreading and Indexing
Collating and Correction
Cover finalized

5-8 months (5 for some US monographs only, 6-8 for other text types)

Marketing

Global Marketing may include conferences, online catalogs, email campaigns, reviews, and help with self-promotion

ROUTLEDGE

Sales

Global sales team works with retailers, universities, and aggregators

Book Publishes

