

WSU TREE FRUIT RESEARCH & EXTENSION CENTER, WENATCHEE

NEW EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

Welcome to WSU Tree Fruit Research & Extension Center (TFREC), Wenatchee!

This handbook has been assembled to help you to successfully start work at WSU TFREC.

Please know that everyone at the Center is willing, to the extent we can, to answer your questions and help you get settled. Our Center is known for its “can-do” attitude, commitment to excellence, conscientious care of assigned resources, and collegiality. We celebrate your arrival and look forward to working with and helping you become an essential and contributing member of our community.

PART I: INTRODUCTION TO WSU AND OUR CENTER

Washington State University is a land-grant university that conducts research and provides world-class education to more than 25,000 students statewide. Founded in Pullman in 1890, WSU’s statewide system includes campuses in Spokane, the Tri-Cities, and Vancouver, extension offices in every county, and distance degree programs accessible around the world. WSU has four strategic goals:

- 1) Offer the best undergraduate experience in a research university;
- 2) Nurture a world-class environment for research, scholarship, graduate education, the arts, and engagement;
- 3) Create an environment of trust and respect in all we do; and
- 4) Develop a culture of shared commitment to quality in all of our activities

CAHNRS - The College of Agricultural, Human, and Natural Resource Sciences (CAHNRS) is one of 11 colleges within WSU. CAHNRS is an expansive and diverse college that includes 15 academic departments and four research and extension centers distributed across Washington State, of which WSU TFREC is one. Each faculty member at WSU TFREC (<http://www.tfrec.wsu.edu/staff.php>) belongs to a department within CAHNRS.

The CAHNRS mission statement is to provide global leadership in discovering, accessing, and disseminating knowledge that contributes to a safe, abundant food and fiber supply; promote the well-being of individuals, families, and communities; enhance sustainability of agricultural and economic systems; and promote stewardship of natural resources and ecological systems.

The WSU TFREC mission statement is: WSU TFREC is a hub for researchers, educators, extension specialists, students and stakeholders focusing on irrigated tree fruit and specialty crop systems to develop and apply new science-based knowledge and products to advance economically, environmentally and socially sustainable agriculture for industries and communities in Washington and the world.

WSU TFREC was established in 1937 by the state legislature, at the behest of tree fruit growers. A farmhouse was built October of 1937, which was replaced in 1967 with the laboratory facilities used today. The USDA-ARS facility was built in 1977. The research and educational programs of the TFREC have contributed substantially to the growth, stability and present stature of Washington's tree fruit industry.

Washington State University Extension engages people, organizations and communities. WSU TFREC hosts many Extension and Outreach educational events for tree fruit producers and professionals as well as for other commodities. Extension events are posted on the corkboard near the front desk. Tianna DuPont is the Tree Fruit Extension Specialist based at the station (tianna.dupont@wsu.edu 509-293-8758). She welcomes your participation in extension events.

WSU TFREC is also referred to as the WSU Wenatchee Tree Fruit Research & Extension Center, or WSU Wenatchee.

1. The Center mailing address is: WSU Tree Fruit Research & Extension Center
1100 North Western Ave.
Wenatchee, WA 98801
2. The telephone number for the main office is: 509-293-8800
Please note that you will have a phone in your workspace, and you will need to note the number for work calls. Dial '7' for an outside line. The center utilizes short-code calls, whereby you dial the 4-digit extension to call other workstations. For example, reception can be reached by dialing '8800' A list of current extension numbers is distributed multiple times per year. WSU Pullman uses a '5' in front of the final four digits of the phone number. Which means if their number is 509-335-4521 you only have to dial 5-4521. Other WSU locations can be reached by dialing only the 7 digits of their number. Do NOT use 7-1-xxx-xxxx when calling other WSU locations. They will be treated like long distance calls.
3. The fax number for the Center is: 509-662-8714
4. The web address for the Center is: <http://www.tfrec.wsu.edu/>
The program you work with also has its own web page, and you will need to note that web address.
5. Hours of operation are: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. While some staff, faculty and graduate students tend to work beyond these times, most staff and temporary employees adhere to these work hours.
6. Two farms—Sunrise Orchard, 150 acres, and Columbia View Orchard, 52 acres— are managed by WSU TFREC. Pesticide application and re-entry information can be found online (http://www.tfrec.wsu.edu/pages/Admin/Pesticide_Applications), in the lobby of the Columbia View Orchard offices, or just inside the deer fence at Sunrise.

Both farms are enclosed in electric fencing to deter deer from the orchards. Sunrise Orchard is a manual fence. It is usually open from early morning until approximately 3pm. The lock is somewhat challenging to open, but can be managed. The gate at Columbia View is automatic, so you will just need to pull up to the keypad, type in the code and wait for the gate to open. Ask at the front desk for the keypad and lock codes. Plot maps can be found on the WSU TFREC Administration & Intranet site (<http://dialogue.tfrec.CAHNRS.wsu.edu/admin/orchard-services>)

PART IV: OPERATIONS AND PROCEDURES

The Business Policies and Procedures Manual (BPPM) is a great resource for information about WSU policies. Many of the subjects listed below can be found in the BPPM.

1. Computer Ethics

Computer resources, information technologies, and networks used by everyone at WSU are governed by Washington State's Ethics in Public Service Law (Ethics Law), RCW 42.52 and by any rules adopted by the Executive Ethics Board, WAC 292-110-010. All staff, employees, faculty and graduate students shall use WSU's information technologies and networks for the purpose of conducting WSU business, communicating with members of professional organizations about their area of expertise, or visiting Web pages of such professional organizations. WSU's electronic mail system may be used to send personal messages, provided that such messages are insignificant in cost and resource usage, and provided that all such messages comply with WAC 292-110-010 and BPPM 20.37. Examples of permissible uses of WSU electronic mail include:

- Communication for those who are hearing impaired
- Notices of social/public service, (e.g., blood drive, shared leave request, etc.)
- Notices of gatherings (e.g., lunches, birthdays, receptions)
- Unit-wide notifications that are used for communicating good will among employees (e.g., holiday greetings, congratulatory messages, etc.)
- Communications for purposes related to employee benefits when WSU has determined that such communications will contribute to staff efficiency
- Personal electronic mail messages to friends or family, provided that such messages do not interfere with the performance of job duties; do not result in an additional cost to WSU; are brief in duration and do not disrupt or distract from the conduct of state business due to volume or frequency; and do not compromise the security or integrity of state information or software.
- All official messages need to be sent through WSU e-mail accounts not personal accounts.

2. Freedom of Speech, Privacy and Appropriate Computer Usage

WSU respects freedom of speech and does not restrict the contents of electronic mail or web pages beyond restrictions inherent in the law. WSU respects the privacy of users and does not routinely inspect or monitor use of computing and networking resources. However, there are situations which may result in the University accessing electronic mail or files, and WSU can impose sanctions for inappropriate use of University electronic resources.

All faculty, staff and graduate students are responsible for maintaining appropriate access restrictions for their files, as well as protecting their passwords. WSU policy requires resetting passwords every 16 weeks.

<https://webutil.wsu.edu/apps/myNetworkProfileHelp/PWHelp.aspx>

Any WSU affiliate who knowingly allows another person to use his or her username or password may be found responsible for any inappropriate use on the part of that person.

Appropriate uses include: all appropriate uses by students related to completion of WSU class assignments, teaching assignments, research, and scholarly, professional, and administrative endeavors on behalf of WSU.

WSU computer resources, information technologies, and networks shall not be used for:

- Attempting to gain unauthorized access to any portion of the system or using WSU computer resources, information technologies, or networks as a staging area to attempt to gain unauthorized access to any other system or account
- Compromising the privacy of users of the computer resources, information technologies, and networks
- Personal activities unrelated to any WSU or student educational purpose
- Copying of software in violation of license or copying that is not authorized
- Destroying, altering, compromising the integrity or security, or making inaccessible WSU computer resources, information technologies, and networks when such uses are not authorized
- Engaging in political activities that violate state law (state law prohibits the use of state facilities or public resources for the purposes of assisting in an election campaign or for the promotion or opposition to a ballot proposition)
- Intentionally disseminating, accessing, or providing a hyperlink to obscenity, as that term is defined by law, unless such activities are directly related to an employee's legitimate research or scholarship purpose or to a student's completion of an academic requirement
- Sending unsolicited electronic mail (e.g., "spam") in violation of Washington law or in quantities that interfere with WSU's or another's server. Senders who anticipate sending large numbers of unsolicited electronic mail messages at one time are responsible for consulting with the appropriate server administrator prior to determine whether or not the sending of the mail is likely to cause a malfunction in a server
- Supporting, establishing, or conducting any private business operation or commercial activity
- Utilizing WSU resources with the purpose of intentionally interfering with others' use of computing resources, information technologies, or network resources or conduct of WSU business
- Violating WSU's policy of prohibiting discrimination against individuals on the basis of race, sex (including sexual harassment), religion, age, color, creed, national or ethnic origin, physical, mental, or sensory disability, marital status, sexual orientation, and status as a Vietnam-era or disabled Veteran
- Violating copyright law (thus, information technology and network users who do not hold the copyright on a work must have permission to publish information, graphics, cartoons, photographs, music, or other material, or the publication must be otherwise permitted under copyright law); violating trademark law; violating any federal, state, or local law

3. Computer Web Pages and Other Electronic Publications

The quality of information published and communicated by WSU plays an important role in maintaining the strong reputation and image of WSU. WSU Web pages and other electronic publications are equivalent to printed publications or official communication. They are official WSU publications. Members of the WSU community create electronic Web pages, publication pages, or other electronic publications that carry out official WSU business in support of WSU's mission. WSU Web graphic identity guidelines are available and all academic and administrative units are required to use them.

4. Cell Phone Use and Etiquette

WSU does not provide cell phones to employees; reimbursement is possible in some circumstances however it is rarely available. Be aware that using your personal cell phone for university business can trigger freedom of information requests.

All WSU affiliates are expected to practice good cell phone etiquette at all times by: i) taking calls outside of general areas so as not to disturb others; ii) limiting personal calls to private areas primarily during break periods; and iii) turning ringers off during meetings. Please use the “vibrate” setting whenever possible.

5. Telephone Use

The same standard used for cell phones is applied to telephone use: a WSU affiliate may make very limited personal use of a University-owned telephone without violating state law so long as the usage is de minimis, is not for private business enterprise, and is not for lobbying or political purposes. See BPPM for more information about limited personal use of University resources. A copy of the user guide to the WSU TFREC phone system is available here: <http://dialogue.tfrec.wsu.edu/admin/wp-content/uploads/sites/3/2016/04/PhoneSupport2.pdf>

6. WSU TFREC Equipment Facility/Land Use

WSU Wenatchee has written policies and legal agreements on using state resources, public land and spaces, including the buildings, student housing, greenhouses, and farm lands for cropping and experimental research purposes. See the Director for additional information.

7. WSU TFREC Committees

Consider ways to contribute to the center by finding out more about committees/initiatives and joining. The following is a list of committees. (Please see http://tfrec.cahnrs.wsu.edu/admin/?attachment_id=2110 for a list of current initiatives and contacts):

Safety Committee – The Safety Committee is in charge of pesticide storage, safety materials, and safety bulletin boards. It is comprised of one faculty representative and one representative from each program who are elected annually by vote of the center’s faculty and staff. Safety is taken seriously at WSU TFREC. Extensive safety materials and guidelines are available to all employees at the Environmental Health and Safety (EHS website) and via the center's safety bulletin boards, safety cabinets, and safety committee. The Safety Committee is in charge of Pesticide storage, safety materials in conference room, and the safety bulletin board. Please contact a member of the Safety Committee if you have any questions.

Graduate Student Committee – The Graduate Student Committee organizes one meeting per semester to address graduate student needs, be involved in the planning of graduate student special events, and contribute to continued development of the graduate student experience at WSU TFREC. The Graduate Student Committee is currently represented by Raquel Gomez and Adrian Marshall

8. WSU TFREC General Use Room/Equipment Guardians

This section is currently under revision.

9. Pets Please do NOT bring pets to work. See WAC 504-36-020 .

10. Smoking and Tobacco products

Washington state law (RCW Chapter 70.160) and University policy both prohibit smoking in public places and places of employment. "Place of employment" refers to any area under the control of WSU through which employees are required to pass during the course of employment, including, but not limited to entrances and exits to the places of employment, and including a minimum distance of 25 feet from entrances, exits, windows that open, and ventilation intakes that serve an enclosed area where smoking is prohibited; also, work areas, restrooms, conference and classrooms, break rooms and cafeterias, and other common areas (including vehicles). WSU affiliates are responsible for complying with the following University smoking policy. See BPPM S70.12 for further details.

11. Provisions of the Drug/Alcohol-Free Workplace Law

WSU has developed programs to prevent unlawful possession, use, and/or distribution of illegal drugs and alcohol by students and employees. The University has created education and training programs to aid in establishing a drug-free workplace. Sanctions for illegal use of drugs and/or alcohol in the workplace may include, but are not limited to, recommendations for completion of an appropriate rehabilitation program, written or verbal warning, censure, dismissal, and, in emergency situations, immediate suspension. For hard copies of the Drug/Alcohol-Free Workplace Law, please see Fiscal Technician Cathy McKenzie or contact Human Resource Services, x5-4521, or refer to the WSU Executive Policy Manual.

12. Use of University Property (BPPM 20.35) and Resources (BPPM 20.37)

WSU facilities and equipment are for official use only subject to limited exceptions. WSU property includes all supplies, equipment, facilities, and real property. WSU affiliates are obligated to conserve and protect state resources for the benefit of the public interest, rather than their private interests. Responsibility and accountability for the appropriate use of state resources ultimately rests with the individual, or with the person who authorizes such use. A WSU affiliate may not use state resources under her/his official control, direction, or custody for the private benefit or gain of self or any other person.

The use of state resources related to the conduct of official business is permitted. The use of state resources for any purpose other than official state duties is governed by the following state laws: RCW 42.52 , Ethics in Public Service; WAC 292-110-010, Use of State Resources. These laws provide for the personal use of state resources under limited circumstances. This policy sets forth the guidelines for permissible, limited, and prohibited uses of state resources regardless of the type of state resource.

WAC 504-26-213 No student may carry, possess, or use any firearm, explosive (including fireworks), dangerous chemical, or any dangerous weapon on university property or in university-approved housing. Airsoft guns and other items that shoot projectiles are not permitted in university-approved housing. Students wishing to maintain a firearm on campus for hunting or sporting activities must contact the Washington State University department of public safety.

13. Complaint Procedure

If a workplace conflict exists, every effort should be made to remedy the issue with the immediate supervisor or the next-level supervisor not involved in the dispute. If a situation in the workplace exists that is not covered by other University complaint procedures, the employee may address the issue in the following manner:

- Issues not resolved that involve alleged illegal discrimination should be handled by following the prescribed procedure in the WSU Policy and Procedure against Discrimination and Sexual Harassment Complaint Process.
- Other workplace concerns should be handled by following the prescribed procedure in the Workplace Concern Resolution Process.

Links to the process can be found via Human Resource Services and the Ombudsman's Office.

14. Annual Reviews

Performance reviews are conducted annually within each program. More frequent, informal reviews may also occur. Click here for personnel review processes.

15. Separation

Procedures to follow upon termination of WSU employee can be found in BPPM 55.49.

PART V: WSU WORKPLACE POLICIES

1. Responsibilities / Code of Ethics

Washington State University is an institution of higher education whose employees uphold high standards of ethical behavior. These standards include respecting and defending free inquiry, acknowledging the contributions of others, showing due respect for the governance of the University, following applicable federal and state laws, and protecting institutional integrity by observing published regulations and policies in order to increase the effectiveness of the University. WSU employees, as they undertake personal and private activities in the wider community, should clearly separate these actions from their University employment. Applicable state law includes the Ethics in Public Service Act (RCW 42.52), which addresses such subjects as use of state resources, political activities, receipt of gifts and honoraria, and outside activities of state employees. For additional information visit the BPPM.

2. Commitment to Diversity

WSU endeavors to model, for the state and nation, a community of individuals who seek what is best for each other. The University respects and significantly benefits from diversity such as may be expressed through racial/ethnic, gender, cultural, disability, sexual orientation, and socioeconomic differences among the faculty, staff, and students. The University takes seriously its responsibility to offer educational and professional opportunities equitably to all qualified persons it can accommodate. The University, through its curriculum, programs, and services, provides understanding and supportive interaction among diverse population groups and respects individuals' personal values and ideas. It is incumbent upon each member of the WSU administration, faculty, and staff to make every good faith effort to fulfill this commitment.

3. Non-Discrimination Statement

WSU subscribes to the principles and laws of the state of Washington and the federal government pertaining to civil rights and equal opportunity, including applicable executive orders. It is WSU policy to prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color, national or ethnic origin, gender, age, sexual orientation, religion, marital status, physical, sensory or mental disability, or use of a trained guide dog or service animal, or whether a disabled or Vietnam-era veteran. This policy addresses recruitment, admissions, hiring, training, discipline, promotion, demotion, transfer, layoff or termination, rates of pay or other forms of compensation, and any other employment or education conditions. Evidence of practices that are inconsistent with this statement and WSU's nondiscrimination policy should be reported to the Center for Human Rights at 509- 335-8288. Additional information is available at the Center for Human Rights web site.

4. Reasonable Accommodation

Several statutes provide legal protection for persons with mental or physical disabilities. These include Washington's Law Against Discrimination (WLAD) (RCW 49.60), the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1974, and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). State and federal law require employers to define essential job functions for hiring purposes and to make “reasonable accommodations” for workers, clients, and customers with disabilities. The Act also includes rules governing accessibility. This body of law, as it may evolve over time, shall be applicable to the University’s compliance in this field.

Address questions about WLAD, ADA and Reasonable Accommodation to the Center for Human Rights or to the Director of Human Resource Services. Whenever reasonable, WSU will accommodate the employee in his or her current position. Other options, however, may include a change in position, paid or unpaid sick leave, long-term disability, or retirement because of health conditions. An accommodation is considered “reasonable” if it does not impose an undue hardship to the institution. Each employee’s circumstances and the reasonableness of any requested or contemplated accommodation will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. Please contact Human Resource Services for additional information, x5-4521 or refer to the Human Resource Services website.

5. Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Statement

WSU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing equal opportunity to applicants and employees without regard to race, creed, color, national or ethnic origin, gender, age, sexual orientation, religion, marital status, physical, sensory or mental disability, or use of a trained guide dog or service animal, or whether a disabled or Vietnam-era veteran. WSU has made, and will continue to make, every effort to eliminate barriers to equal opportunity encountered by these protected group members. Aspirations have been set for affected group members in those job groups or areas where it has been determined that under utilization exists. The University makes good faith efforts to meet these aspirations and reviews progress on an annual basis. For information about WSU’s Affirmative Action Program, contact the Center for Human Rights at 509-335-8288 or refer to the Center for Human Rights website.

6. Provisions of the “Whistleblower” Act

State employees may report improper governmental actions to the Office of the State Auditor of the State of Washington. To encourage the reporting of improper governmental actions, employees are protected from retaliation by provisions of state law. Employees may not use or attempt to use their official authority or influence to interfere with the right of an individual to disclose information to the State Auditor (RCW 42.40).

7. Nepotism

Discrimination against an employee because of marital status or because of a relationship with another employee is prohibited. WSU seeks to employ qualified persons in all positions without regard to a person’s relationship with other University employees. However, no employee shall supervise, vote, make recommendations, or in any other way participate in the decision of any matter that may directly affect the appointment, tenure, promotion, salary, or any other status or interest of such employee’s parent, child, spouse, partner, sibling, in-law, or close relative. A link to the policy can be found in the BPPM.

8. Workplace Violence

The University is committed to maintaining an environment that is free from all acts or threats of violence perpetrated by or against employees, students, or members of the public. Workplace violence is any physical assault, threatening, or intimidating behavior, or verbal abuse occurring in the work setting.

While on University property or while conducting University business at other locations, each employee, student, or individual is prohibited from subjecting any other employee, student, or individual to any violence or threat of violence. 9. Domestic Violence and the Workplace

Washington State University is concerned and committed to employees' safety and health including employees who are victims of domestic violence. For employees who are affected by domestic violence, every reasonable effort will be made to provide support and assistance including:

- A confidential mechanism for requesting help for oneself or family members.
- Resource and referral information,
- Work schedule adjustments or leave, as needed, to obtain medical, mental health, legal assistance and/or confidential secure shelter,
