GARY MacEOIN: Agent for Change
The Story of Harvey (Pablo) Steele
as Told to Gary MacEoin

This is the story of a priest who has always managed to be where trouble is, and Gary MacEoin unfailingly catches the excitement of mine strikes in Nova Scotia in Steele's boyhood, the terror of Japanese air-rafts in China and the Graham Greene atmosphere of living under several different types of totalitarianism. Harvey Steele has been an agent for change, a stubborn social reformer who never let realism darken his high vision of what could be, and whose idealism is born that the future must be shaped now through struggle, work and sacrifice. He has embodied in his life the massive shift which has taken place within Christianity itself.

GUTIERREZ:
A Theology of Liberation
"a miniature summa"  The Critic "has turned me on completely"  Commonweal

"It stands above all the other Latin American 'theology of revolution' books that have appeared in English to date, and has much to say about theology in general, including in our half-liberated part of the hemisphere. It is a virtual encyclopedia of references to Latin American religious thought."  Commonweal
