Dear Mr. Secretary-General,

I am happy to confirm that Crayon Group supports the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact on human rights, labor, environment and anticorruption. We also want to become a member of the Global Compact and support advancing the 10 principles.

We already exemplify the principles and currently have many CSR-related qualifications. In fact one of our subsidiaries, Crayon Sweden, has been a participant in the UN Global Compact since December last year. However, we are a global company and want to join the compact on a global scale.

We also currently have the Ecovadis silver medal and we are a Nasdaq ESG Transparency Partner. We aim for continuous improvement with respect to our responsibility to the society and environment, which is why we want to join the UN Global Compact.

Being a member of the compact sends a clear statement to our customers, the general public and our other stakeholders regarding our commitment to the United Nations and its principles.

Crayon Group’s core strategy, day-to-day culture and the value of our business already closely aligns with the 10 principles of the Global Compact. In addition, we actively engage in collaborative projects, workshops, and other events to further develop our Sustainable Development Goals.

We pledge to contribute and engage with UN Global Compact in the following ways:

• We support participants of UN Global Compact that follow, support and report on their implementations of sustainability goals.

• We engage and implement partnerships and engage with other stakeholders regarding corporate social responsibility.
• We support and engage with Global Compact local networks.

As part of being a Nasdaq ESG Transparency Partner and due to our company values and governance, we support transparency and accountability; therefore we commit to report our progress annually according to the UN global compact Communication on Progress (COP) policy. Including a measurement of outcomes with qualitative and quantitative indicators. A statement of continuing support for the UN global Compact signed by Chief Executive, Torgrim Takle. And a description of our practices and actions taken for the successful implementation of UN principles in the four main areas (Labor, Human Rights, environment and anti-corruption.)

Sincerely,

Torgrim Takle
CEO Crayon Group
