Letter from Producer

UNIFY FEST is a new transformational festival dedicated to sustainable living that brings together thousands of people learning to live in harmony while having an amazing sober party and community experience doing it.

The word transformation literally means, “to change”, and in the context of this festival, the vision is for all of us to be inspired and empowered to change for the better. That’s why we are laying the foundation in this inaugural year by implementing a mission that supports organic, healthy, sober, conscious, spiritual, sustainable living.

This first year is about implementing a framework of which we can build upon for each year thereafter. That framework is about supporting our local community, educating each of us how to live more sustainably, raising the overall vibration of our minds and emotions with conscious music and empowering workshops, and learning from our indigenous communities while bringing forth important ceremonial practices to unify humanity.

The long-term vision of UNIFY FEST is to raise awareness and proceeds to build a sustainable community and eco-school called YouCadia in Santa Fe where collaboration, permaculture, organic food production, self-reliance, spiritual unity, and sustainable living are at the center of the community and the heart of the educational curriculum. We want to teach these important skills to children and families so we can continue to lead by the example of collaborative and sustainable living.

I want to say thank you from my heart and our entire team for being a part of helping lay the foundation for this grass roots transformational experience to happen and for all of us to work together towards creating a brighter future while have an unforgettable experience doing it.

With love and gratitude,
Nathan Crane

Join Mick Dodge at the Earth Gym Near Family Camping

Mick stepped away from the isolation of modern life and followed his feet deep into the lands of OM (Olympic Mountains), trained with Master OG (Old Growth) and touched into the source of all story - the earth. He learned to listen through his feet, he began to remember, recover and re-story his relationship with what is 'Wild'. After years questing, the Hoh Rain Forest gave him a song. A song revealed to him through his feet. The last verse of his Hoh Song, contains the walking instructions: "For years you have run this valley alone. It is now time to carry a circle of stone. And to sing this song across the land. To woman, children and all sorts of man." Join Mick Dodge and Friends at the Earth Gym!

Multicultural Ceremonies Unifying us all

Every morning and every night there is a new ceremony on either the Sol Stage or the Viento Stage, and during this time there is nothing else happening on the schedule. We do this so everyone can participate in the ceremonies every day and benefit from the beautiful energy we all choose to co-create.

We highly encourage you to make time every day to attend these ceremonies. They are highlighted in YELLOW on the program guide.

The foundational essence of UNIFY FEST is built upon multicultural ceremonial experiences happening every morning and every night intended to UNIFY and harmonize all of us by honoring the planet and all living beings. Our ancestors have many great practices of peace, love, and unity and when we open ourselves to learning new ceremonies and spiritual practices from our relatives all around the globe, we become more aware and empowered of the love, peace, truth, and beauty that emanates within.

www.facebook.com/doodafracking.nn

Dooda (pronounced doh-dah) means "NO" in the Diné (Navajo) language.

There is currently a fracking boom occurring in the "Eastern Agency" of the Navajo Reservation. We become economic hostages when they dangle petty change in front of our impoverished communities to get leases and fracking workers

We are a group of Diné youth striving to educate our people and the world about the dangers of fracking. We need help to stop this ravaging of our land and water.

Please pray for us, like our Facebook Page, and join our movement to end the legacy of energy colonization and terrorism in Diné Bikeyah, our sacred homeland.

There are no jobs on a dead planet.
