LIVE & STUDY IN THE HEART OF ROME

Located in a 15th century palace in the heart of the Italian capitol, the UW Rome Center is the perfect home-base for your study abroad.

Our classrooms feature ornate frescoes and spectacular views. The city will also be your classroom! Taught by UW professors, our courses include field trips and opportunities to connect with local people.

After class, it's time to explore! Just outside our doorstep is the vibrant Piazza Campo de’ Fiori, home to an open-air market, shops and cafes. Countless famous sites are a short walk away, including the Pantheon, the Colosseum and the Vatican.

YOUR HOME IN ROME

9am - Espresso
9:15am - 20 minute walk from apartment to the UW Rome Center
10am - Guest lecture for class
11am - Lecture with UW professor
1pm - Lunch in Campo de’ Fiori
2pm - Walking tour with UW professor and classmates
4pm - Group work with classmates on a final project
6pm - Sightseeing
8pm - Dinner with professor and classmates at a local restaurant

A TYPICAL DAY IN ROME

HERE’S WHAT WE OFFER

- On-site staff to help with everything from directions to where to grocery shop to seeing a doctor
- Safe, comfortable housing in local apartments
- A home-base to relax and build community
- Library with books, periodicals, and digital access to the entire UW Libraries collection
- Technology lab offering laptops, cameras, projectors and other tools for check-out

UW ROME CENTER
UW.EDU/ROME
GET READY TO EAT

Bring your appetite, because amazing food will be a delicious part of your adventure in Rome. Here are some of our favorite spots.

Pizza
Pizza is part of every student’s experience in the eternal city. Of course you’ll want to sample the huge diversity of flavors, starting with classics like Margherita, with tomatoes, mozzarella and fresh basil. We recommend Emma Pizzeria. It’s the perfect place for a casual dinner with friends.

Gelato (a.k.a. ice cream)
Just a stone’s throw from the UW Rome Center is Fatamorgana, a delicious and creative gelateria. Chef-owner Maria Agnese offers inventive flavors like Cioccolato Kentucky (chocolate and tobacco) and Seada (Pecorino, honey and orange).

WHAT STUDENTS SAY

The classes were all rolled up into one journey through the streets of Rome and delved into the history, architecture, art and poetry of the city. We writers walked everywhere with notebooks and pens in hand and put the city and how we experienced it into words as best we could. It was a creative adventure every day!

- Maya Paschal, English major

Going into it, I had no idea how much it would impact me. In addition to deepening my technical, research and communications skills, the program also boosted my appreciation of engineering history. It’s one thing to read about engineering principles and projects in textbooks, but it’s a much more meaningful experience to visit places where you can see such activity in action, or at least the evidence of it.

- Agustin Castro, Industrial Engineering major

UW ROME CENTER

Explore upcoming UW Study Abroad programs in Rome!

UW.EDU/STUDYABROAD/ROME-PROGRAMS